AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL MEETING.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Twenty-third Annual MEETING of the members of the Society will be held at the Principal Office, New Pitt-street, Sydney, on WEDNESDAY, the 24th day of April next, at 2.30 p.m., for the purpose of

1. Receiving the Report of the Directors on the business of the Society for the past year.
2. Electing two Directors in lieu of Boulton Molineaux, Esq., and John Fairfax, Esq., who retire in terms of By-law II., both of whom are eligible for re-election.
3. Electing an Auditor in lieu of Henry Phillips, Esq., who retires in terms of By-law XVII.

In terms of By-law XXXIX., No member shall be put in nomination for the office of Director unless "written notice thereof, or of his being a candidate, shall have been given to the Board, or to the Secretary, at least thirty clear days before such meeting."

Dated at Sydney this 14th day of March, 1872.

By order of the Board, ALEXANDER J. RALSTON, General Secretary.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I am one of the Directors retiring by rotation at the next annual meeting, on the 24th proximo, but am eligible for re-election. It was my privilege and honour to be one of the first Directors, and I have been a member of the Board during a large portion of the Society's existence. I shall not canvass for votes or ask for proxies. Such a practice I believe to be undesirable in an institution involving the interests of many thousands of members, and the investment of more than one million of money.

I shall have great pleasure in serving, to the best of my ability, the Society, if you again place me in its direction.

I am your obedient servant, JOHN FAIRFAX.

HERALD Office, March 16, 1872.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to inform you that I am a CANDIDATE for the office of Director of our Society, to be elected at the next ensuing Annual Meeting.

It is neither my intention to importune you by any personal canvass nor to trouble you by soliciting your votes through the medium of an agent, because I deem it better for our mutual interest that you should be quite free to make your own choice.

The fact of my being one of the largest policy-holders, and that I formerly filled the office of Director for a period of four years (during which time I assisted in effecting some very beneficial changes in the management), will, I trust, be considered by you as sufficient guarantee that, if elected, my best energies will be devoted to the success of a Society in which, in common with you all, I am so deeply interested.

S. A. JOSEPH.

4, O'Connell-street, 14th March, 1872.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I beg to announce myself as a candidate for the vacant seat in the directorate of our Institution, to be filled up on the 24th of April next.

For the information of members at a distance, I may state that I was a member of the "Investigation Committee," whose onerous duties extended over many months, and subsequently a director for three years until my departure for England, during which period, many important alterations were effected in the management of the society, which gave me an unusual opportunity of gaining an insight into its affairs.

Soliciting your support and votes, I beg to call the attention of those members who cannot attend the annual meeting, to the forty-fourth by-law, which requires all voting papers to be written out by members, with their own hands, and worded according to annexed form.

Your obedient servant, JOHN H. GOODLET.

Sydney, 14th March, 1872.

I ______ vote for ______ to fill the offices of Director of the Australian Mutual Provident Society.

Dated this ______ day of ______ 1872.

(Signature and address).

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I respectfully beg to announce myself as a CANDIDATE for the office of Auditor at the next Annual General Meeting, to be held on the 24th April.

I am, Ladies and Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, ROBERT GILFILLAN.

PUBLIC COMPANIES.

THE GOLDEN NOTE GOLD MINING COMPANY.—(Limited).
About 2½ miles from the Mitchell's Creek Company's machinery.
DISTRICT OF WELLINGTON.

Capital £20,000, in 20,000 shares of £1 each.
£2000 cash, and 8000 paid up shares for the proprietors.

BANKERS:
Australian Joint Stock Bank, Sydney.
AGENT AND BROKER FOR THE COMPANY:
E. N. Emmett, Greville's Rooms.
2s 6d to be paid upon application.
2s 6d to be paid upon allotment.
Calls of 1s if required at intervals of one month.

This Company is formed to mine an apparently extraordinary rich deposit of gold in quartz (samples of which are at the office of E. N. EMMETT for public inspection), found about two-and-a-half miles from the Mitchell's Creek Company's machinery. The auriferous land of this Company consists of lease of one entire block of 22 acres running north and south—a distance of 736 yards, nearly half-a-mile.

This area includes in its boundary the GOLDEN NOTE LEASE, of two acres, just secured by two prospectors.

These two acres appear to be wonderfully rich, indicated by the surface crop of the stone. Samples to be seen in E. N. EMMETT'S Office.

Four hundred yards (400) from the spot of the rich find by the prospectors and along the line of the reef in the Company's ground south is another large crop of stone, indicating that the reef runs the entire length of the 736 yards.

The golden stone commences from the surface.

Many tons of good stone are available from the surface at once for crushing.

There are now already about six tons of golden stone raised and bags of richer specimens; in fact, there are now on the surface and easily got for crushing from thirty (30) to fifty (50) tons of stone without sinking five feet, which may be fairly estimated to go five (5) oz. to the ton.

The alluvial for surfacing and cement lying about the blow goes 1 oz to the ton.

A shaft through blue slate rock, and now in 30 feet, will strike the reef on its western underlie.

The alluvial diggings in this neighbourhood have proved very rich.

The Mitchell's Creek Company's machine is about two and a-half miles distant from the lease of this Company, north-east.

Previous to the early days of the gold-fields, a man named M'Gregor was known to take at periods from this locality, metal, not then supposed to be gold.

This is the place where "Stuckbury," the geologist, pronounced rich gold would be found.

There is no question as to the ground of this company being, so far as at present seen, very rich and above the average.

There is no apparent difficulty in having a dividend the first crushing.

A small crushing will give something like 300 oz. of gold.

FORM OF APPLICATION.
To E. N. Emmett, Agent for the Golden Note Gold-Mining Company (Limited).

I have to request you will allot me Shares in the above company, and I hereby agree to accept the same or any less number that may be allotted to me, and to sign the Deed of Settlement and the Rules and Regulations of the Company when called upon to do so, and I herewith hand you a cheque for £ , being the deposit of 2s 6d per share.

BEYERS AND HOLTERMANN'S STAR OF HOPE GOLD MINING COMPANY (Limited).

NOTICE.—It has been determined to CLOSE the LIST of SHAREHOLDERS positively on 27th instant. There are several tons of quartz now in course of crushing, which will revert to credit of the Company. Application for Shares should be made at once, as the Proprietors contemplate taking what is left after the above date.

PROSPECTUS
ARMIDALE TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited).

Capital, £5000, in 10,000 Shares of 10s each, payable 1s on application for shares, the remainder in monthly calls of 1s each.

Bankers:
The Australian Joint Stock Bank.
Broker:
E. N. Emmett, Greville's Rooms.

This rich property consists of three most carefully-selected allotments of 20 acres each, situated alongside Cope's Creek, a well-known Tin Deposit District, near the town of Armidale.

No doubts are entertained by the most experienced judges of the district that lodes will easily be opened up on the hills embraced within the properties of the Company.

It is intended to dispatch at once an experienced mining captain to the locality, in order to commence washing operations.

Regular MONTHLY dividends may be relied on.

This property, though certainly as rich, if not richer, than any other tin mine yet placed before the public, is offered at a most moderate and reasonable rate, in order that the profits therefrom may be participated in by the general public, and not, as it has been hitherto customary, by only a few of the original shareholders.

The original two proprietors of the leases in payment thereof will receive from the Company £1000 each on easy terms.

The balance of the capital, £3000, is considered more than sufficient to erect all necessary works for mining, washing, and smelting purposes.

A deposit of 1s per share has to be made on application, the remaining 9s per share will be called up by monthly instalments of 1s each.

Applications for shares are to be made in the usual form, to

E. N. EMMETT, Greville's Rooms; or to JULIUS LIPPMANN, 14, Spring-street, and will only be received until SATURDAY, the 30th instant. Priority of claim to have the preference.

On the MONDAY following a MEETING of Shareholders will be held in order to elect, at once, the Directory and Trustees.

JULIUS LIPPMANN, 14, Spring-street, Agent.

PROSPECTUS
of the
ROYAL HOTEL COMPANY,
HILL END.

In 7000 Shares of £1 each.
To be Registered under the Limited Liability Act.
500 paid up shares reserved by the promoters.

The object of floating the above company is to build an Hotel suitable to the requirements of the increased and increasing population of Hill End.

The proposed hotel will contain about thirty bedrooms, six private sitting-rooms, commercial room, sample room, dining-room, bar and bar parlour, billiard room, twenty-stall stables, coachhouses, bathrooms, servants' apartments, and all the accommodation that can be given by a first-class family hotel. The site will be in Tambaroora-street, on land purchased from Mr. John Hammond, and is a first-class airy situation, commanding a splendid view of the Bald Hill and surrounding country.

The estimated cost of the building, including purchase of land, and all other outlays, will be about £6500, in 6500 shares of £1 each; 2s 6d of which must be paid on application, 2s 6d on allotment, and the balance in calls as required, but not to exceed 5s per share per month.

When two-thirds of the shares are taken up a meeting of shareholders will be called to elect their own treasurer and committee of management.

It is unnecessary to mention that such hotel is required, as this is known to visitors from Sydney and elsewhere, who have experienced the difficulty of obtaining suitable apartments.

The present established and permanent character of the reefs on Hill End and in the surrounding neighbourhood, will keep a large population in the present town, no matter what large and rich reefs may be discovered elsewhere.

The money invested will give a return of from 15 to 20 per cent. per annum, with as good security as can be procured in the colony.

When the hotel is nearly completed tenders will be called for a suitable tenant.

Plans on view at Greville's Rooms, Sydney; Club House Hotel, Bathurst; and at J. Rossiter's office, Hill End.

Those who wish to invest in these shares are recommended to be prompt, as the share lists are rapidly filling at Tambaroora, Hill End, and Bathurst.

Already over 2000 shares have been taken up, exclusive of the promoters shares, at Hill End and Bathurst.

WEST KROHMAN GOLD MINING CO.

This company is to be formed on a capital of 8000 shares of £1 each. 7000 of the shares are now taken, and the public are invited to take the remaining 1000, in order that work may be at once begun on this valuable property. We have received a telegram from our agent, stating that the richest gold yet found in Hawkins Hill is in Krohman's westerly veins, which must make the West Krohman Co.'s ground more valuable.

Proprietors' Shares, paid up .. 5,000

BROKER:
Mr. JOSIAH MULLENS, 131, Pitt-street.

The property which it is proposed to work under the above title is a twenty-acre lease, situated on Johnston's Hill, Kimo Ranges, about ten miles from Gundagai.

An immense reef of conglomerate quartz and sandstone, with slate casing, and well-defined granite walls, runs through the entire length of the property (640 yards).

The width of the reef is from twenty-eight feet six inches to fourteen feet. Two shafts have been sunk on the reef, one of twenty-six feet deep at the north end, proving the reef to be twenty-eight feet six inches wide; and the other at the south is thirty-seven feet deep, showing the reef fourteen feet wide, (distance between the two shafts five hundred yards,) the stone showing gold throughout. The crushings taken from these shafts varied from eight and a-half dwts. to 1 oz. The last lot crushed (40 tons) went 12 dwts. to the ton; but as the only machine is three miles distant, and of no great power, the proprietors have determined to offer a portion of the property to the public, in order to raise a proper crushing plant of from fifteen to twenty head of stampers on the ground.

To this end application has been made for a machine site, on a creek about a quarter of a mile from the reef, with a good road on a descending gradient. This site is admirably adapted for the construction of a dam at moderate cost.

It is estimated that about £5000 will be ample for purchase and erection of a large battery of twenty head of stampers, with engine sheds and all other appliances complete, for working the reef at the rate of two hundred tons per week.

It is assumed that as soon as the machine is put to work on the ground, there will be an immediate yield from the reef, which, on account of its great extent and facilities for working, can be quarried at a cost of less than four shillings per ton.

The present indications lead the proprietors to believe that the supply of stone is almost without limit, and gold-bearing throughout.

In the event of the Company being formed, it is possible that the services of Mr. William Woolnough, who has been for many years resident in the neighbourhood, and has a large experience in quartz-crushing, may be obtained for the local management.

Messrs. Henry Woolnough (Wynyard-street) and R. R. Smith (Struth's Wharf) have visited the mine within the last few days, and (as far as non-professional opinions are worth anything) are able to state that the account as above given is perfectly correct, and they firmly believe, from information obtained by them from practical miners on the spot, that eleven shillings per ton expenses will produce eight and a half pennyweights of gold per ton.

Terms are as follows:—The proprietors ask £500 in cash, and five thousand shares paid-up; the cash will give a right to the stone (say about sixty or seventy tons), tools, sheds, &c., now on the ground.

No more capital will be called up than will be sufficient to work the quarry of stone on the ground, and ALL SHARES WILL PARTICIPATE EQUALLY IN DIVIDENDS, WHATSOEVER THE AMOUNT PAID UP MAY BE.

The Company will be registered under "The Limited Liabilities Act." As soon as formed, a meeting of the shareholders will be called to elect directors and approve of articles of association.

The expenses of floating the Company will be paid by the proprietors, and the share list will be closed as soon as sufficient shares are applied for.

Applications addressed to Mr. J. MULLENS, 131, Pitt-street, must be accompanied by a deposit of 2s. 6d. per share, and this money will be returned without deduction should the Company not be formed.

PROSPECTUS
LILY OF THE VALLEY GOLD-MINING COMPANY (LIMITED), Nuggetty Reef, Chambers Creek.

Capital, £2000, in 40 shares of £50 each.

Eight shares fully paid up will be reserved for the Proprietors. Thirty-two shares of £50 each are offered to the public. £6 10s on application, £6 10s on allotment, and the balance in calls of not more than £2 10s per share monthly. The original proprietors are also to receive £400 in cash for the purchase of lease and work done, leaving £1200 to form the working capital of the Company.

The Company is formed for the purpose of purchasing and developing a five (5) acre lease, situated at Chambers Creek, in the immediate vicinity of the celebrated mine "Count Bismark," lately sold for £5000, and from which the last reports assert extraordinary rich stone is being raised.

The Nuggetty Reef, which is well-defined, runs through the entire length of the ground. Eminent geologists entertain a high opinion of the locality, as it is the terminus, apparently, of the line of reef running magnetically north and south, with an easterly dip, from Hill End to the Great Wallaby Rocks (granite). The same rock discernible at Allan's mine, on this reef, is also seen at Hawkins Hill. Allan's mine is very rich, with a shaft 130 feet deep, and the proprietors will not sell out for less than £8000.

Nearly every mine has been inspected by Mr. Thomas Rowe, one of the proprietors, for the purpose of advising a company in which he is interested, and upon his report a company has been formed, with a capital of £10,000, and is about to erect machinery at once.

The Lily of the Valley adjoins the Globe Mining Company, upon which Mr. T. Rowe reports.

There is every reason to expect Chambers Creek will prove to be exceedingly rich, with shallow sinkings. The Bismark being about 70 feet deep.

As soon as the few remaining shares are taken up, a meeting of the shareholders will be held, directors elected, and operations commenced forthwith.

Applications for shares will be received by W. BOLES, Secretary pro tem., at the office of T. Rowe, 5, 6, and 7, Vickery's-chambers.

It BURNS ¼ LONGER. Thus, purchasers of one case of 8 gallons actually secure what is equal to 9 gallons of imported oil.

For the convenience of purchasers, arrangements may be made with the Company for STORAGE, FREE OF CHARGE.

It is considered by many influential residents in Queensland that the time has now arrived for the establishment of a purely local bank in the colony, and that a project with this end in view will meet with the cordial support of all classes of the community.

The success that has attended the creation of local banking companies in the other Australian colonies affords a sufficient guarantee that their example can safely be followed in Queensland. With a population of 120,000 souls—with a rich territory, whose varied resources can scarcely be overestimated—the colony is still dependent on foreign institutions for the transaction of its monetary affairs; and the fact that at the close of last year the fixed and other deposits lodged with the Queensland branches of these amounted to £1,240,000 (whilst at the present time those in the Government Savings' Bank aggregate £420,000), goes far to show the amount of confidence which would be extended to a bank with a local direction and propriety.

It is proposed to open the head office of the Bank in Brisbane as soon as the services of a duly qualified staff of officers can be secured.

Branches will be opened in the principal towns of the colony, from time to time, whenever it is deemed expedient.

The Queensland National Bank (Limited) will be a bank of issue and deposit, and will conduct all usual banking operations.

The amount of any further calls shall not exceed £2 per share for each call, and no payment other than the first shall be made without three months' notice.

No promotion money will be paid on account of the launching of this institution. The only charge made will be for the ordinary preliminary expenses of printing, advertising, broker's commission, &c.

So soon as the share list shall be closed and the shares allotted, the provisional committee shall call a meeting of shareholders, to be held at Brisbane.

At this meeting the functions of such provisional committee will cease and determine, and the shareholders will then proceed to elect a Board of Directors, who shall be empowered to take such steps as may be necessary for completing the organization of the company, appointing a general manager, and commencing business.

Applications for shares reserved for allotment in Sydney must be made in the annexed form, accompanied by the deposit or by the banker's receipt for the amount, addressed to the provisional committee, at the office of Mr. J. MULLENS, 131, Pitt-street, on or before SATURDAY, April 6, 1872. The shares will be allotted to each applicant rateably in proportion to the number applied for.

P R O S P E C T U S of THE GREAT NORTHERN TIN MINING COMPANY, HORSESHOE BEND, MITCHELL RIVER, OBAN (Limited).

CAPITAL: £30,000 in 30,000 shares of £1 each, of which twenty thousand shares (paid-up) are reserved for the proprietors, with £1000 cash, to be paid them for the purchase of the lease and preliminary expenses, and the remaining 10,000 shares are offered to the public on the following terms, viz.:—a deposit of 2s 6d per share on application, and 2s 6d per share on allotment, and further calls in sums not exceeding 2s 6d per share (if required) in periods of not less than two months.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS:
S. Hoffnung, Esq., Sydney. John Moore, Esq., Armidale.
T. C. Bagot, Esq., Armidale. T. B. Rolin, Esq., Sydney.
John R. Street, Esq., Sydney.
BANKERS:
Bank of New South Wales.
PROVISIONAL SECRETARY:
D. Marks, Esq.

This Company's property consists of 14 blocks, of 20 acres each, in all 280 acres (as per plan annexed), leased from the Government of New South Wales, situated on the Mitchell River at the places known as the Horseshoe Bend and Long Point, in the Oban district, and from the fact of being selected under the personal supervision of Messrs. John Moore, C. T. Bagot, T. Clarke and Co., is in itself sufficient guarantee of the value of this really desirable mineral property.

Nearly the whole of the ground can be profitably worked, and the prospect hitherto ascertained has realized as high as 7 lbs. of tin ore to the dish, in which gold has been found in every instance.

The position of the mines is unequalled, being situated at the bend of the Mitchell River, which takes its course downwards (throughout the neighbourhood of the Mount Mitchell Tin Mining Company's property, and the Oban Tin Mines, the property of Messrs. Bagot and Clarke), giving it the greatest advantages, and embracing natural falls, that are not procurable in any other part of the Mitchell River, for ground sluicing purposes, and below which is situated the first block of land purchased by the Mount Mitchell Tin Mining Company, out of which so much tin ore and gold have been obtained.

All that will be necessary to commence work is to cut a race at a cost of from £200 to £300, and the proprietors are of opinion that in three months from the time of the commencement of operations sufficient Tin Ore and Gold will be raised to cover all the outlay that may have been entered into. It is expected that by altering the present course of the river (which, from its serpentine position through the property, would justify) it must lay open for operations ONE OF THE RICHEST DEPOSITS OF STREAM TIN yet discovered in the colony, together with considerable quantities of gold, the value of which the subjoined report of the Deputy Master of the Mint will testify:—

"Royal Mint, Sydney,
"18th March, 1872.
"Sir,—The specimen sent by you to be assayed for gold and tin was found to contain—
"Gold, 1 oz. 8 dwts. 18 grs. per ton.
"Tin, 71.48 per cent.
"I am, Sir,
"Your obedient servant,
"C. ELOUIS."
"To David Marks, Esq., 159 and 161, Pitt-street."

CAPTAIN HOLMAN'S REPORT.
"Mitchell River, Oban, 18th March, 1872.
"John Moore, Esq., Armidale.

"Dear Sir,—In compliance with your letter of 15th instant, I accompanied Mr. George Taylor and inspected the mineral leases held by yourself and company, comprising fourteen 20-acre blocks at the Horseshoe Bend and Long Point, situated on either side of the Mitchell River, Oban, and have pleasure in briefly reporting upon its prospective value for tin ores and gold.

"The Mitchell River for over two miles immediately about these blocks has recently been proved to traverse rich tin-bearing country, and the Horseshoe Bend is the first plateau of similar extent found for the reception of its alluvial deposits; and these exist more or less on all the flats throughout these leases, which include the river bed, also for about a mile and a half long, exclusive of one 20-acre block intervening.

"The general character of the district is mountainous, the formation true granite rocks traversed by elvan dykes and quartzose veins, thus from Mount Mitchell situated three miles up the river, thence to the Horseshoe Bend, the Mitchell and its tributaries traverse gullies, ravines, and gorges which from the disintegration of the rocks have deposited quantities of tin ores and gold in the flats. The Mitchell ranges continue down to and below the Crown Mountain, the latter forming your northern boundary, while on the south gentle slopes give easy access to it. While developing the alluvial deposits which is the primary object, it is reasonable to hope that the permanent sources of tin-bearing rocks or lodes will be discovered.

"No unusual or expensive mining works are required before early and continuous returns of Tin Ores and Gold can be relied upon, beyond cutting short head races for diverting the stream from its bed, when it can be applied to useful hydraulic purposes, and in blasting short bars of granite here and there in the river bed as the work proceeds in order to drain and get at the rich deposits in the recesses of the river bed and alluvial flats adjacent.

"I saw prospects of tin ores and gold washed out of your blocks of first-class quality, and I consider its general value promises to equal any ground of similar extent on this river or in the district of Oban. By a moderate expenditure of capital applied by judicious and energetic management in developing these lands for tin ores and gold, I have every reason to believe that highly profitable results will be obtained within a few months.

"I am, Sir, yours obediently,
"JOSIAH HOLMAN,
"Mining Manager to the Mount Mitchell Tin Mining Company, Oban."

The Company will be registered under the Limited Liability Act.

ALL SHARES PARTICIPATE EQUALLY IN DIVIDENDS.

Prospectuses, Plans, and Forms of Application for shares may be obtained from Mr. D. MARKS, 159 and 161, Pitt-street.

NOTICE.—5000 Contributors' shares having been already taken up, the balance will be allotted as applied for, and the share list closed, when a meeting of shareholders will be called to appoint directors.

THE LORD ASHLEY GOLD MINING COMPANY (Limited).

CAPITAL, £2400, IN 80 SHARES OF £30 EACH. 40 shares, to be considered as fully paid-up, will be retained by the present proprietors, and 40 are offered to the public.

Deposit on application, £5 per share; the balance, so far as required, in such calls as the directors may determine, not exceeding £3 per month; but from the work already done it is not anticipated that many calls will be made.

The proprietors will also retain the sum of £75 to partly repay them for the expense of the permanent shaft they are now sinking.

The property of the company consists of four (4) acres of land on Withe's old line of Reef, at Withe's Hill, and has a length of one hundred and ninety-two (192) yards on the base line of the reef, by a width of one hundred (100) yards. It was surveyed in July last by Mr. Surveyor Sharpe, and appears in that gentleman's plan of the Hill End and Hawkins Hill districts. It is separated from the leases of the well-known South Star Company by ground taken up under miners' rights and by a two-acre lease, making it about one hundred and ninety (190) yards distant.

The reef now working by the South Star Company runs through the ground, a shaft having been put down upon it to a depth of about sixty (60) feet on the dip of the Reef. Between thirty (30) and forty (40) tons of quartz have been raised for the Company, and is now waiting the erection of a crushing-machine on the Turon River. Gold has been seen in it throughout the whole depth of sinking. A straight-down shaft is now being sunk, for the purpose of cutting the Reef at a depth of about eighty (80) feet, and of being subsequently sunk to cut the second vein, which it is expected to do at a further depth of about fourteen (14) feet.

The operations of the South Star Company have as yet been mainly of a prospecting character, they having been working a reef of moderately paying nature, in expectation of reaching the same strata which contained the enormously rich veins on Hawkins Hill. They are now down one hundred and twenty (120) feet, and their prospects are generally considered to be most encouraging, the slate changing gradually to the true Hawkins Hill type. Should they succeed, the whole of the claims on this line will be of immense value.

The whole of the quartz now raised will be handed over to the Company when formed.

Mr. Leonard, Mining Surveyor, reports as under:—

"I have examined the four-acre lease, the Lord Ashley. It is on the 'South Star' line, about 100 yards south of the South Star Company's claim; it is bounded on the north by Brewer and Company's block claim, partly on the east by Williamson's lease, known as the 'Confidence;' on the south by the 'Star of Australia,' five-acres; and on the west by a five-acre lease on the 'Galatea' line, belonging to Robinson and party.

"The South Star Company's Reef passes through the lease from north to south, upon which an underlying shaft has been sunk to a depth of forty-five feet, showing the Reef varying in thickness from fifteen to eighteen inches, showing gold in small quantities throughout.

"A straight working shaft is now being sunk to cut the Reef at a depth of about sixty feet, and is down forty feet from the surface; it will be 6 x 3 feet in the clear, will be slabbed and centred, and in all respects a fair working shaft.

"To the west of the South Star Reef there is a vein showing gold in surface stone, and two to the east of it, also showing gold. There is also good reason to believe that the 'Confidence' Reef may be cut at a reasonable depth by a downright shaft on the eastern boundary.

"I believe that this lease has as good, if not better, prospects than any other in its immediate neighbourhood.

"I am, &c.,
"E. A. LEONARD,
"Mining Manager."

Many of the shares have been taken up privately, and the remainder are now placed in the market.

SYDNEY MEAT PRESERVING COMPANY (Limited).

Minutes of special general meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, Exchange, Sydney, on Friday, the 22nd of March, 1872, John Lackey, Esq., M.P., in the chair.

The CHAIRMAN read the advertisement convening the meeting, and also the following letter:—

12th February, 1872.

Dear Sir,—I have laid before the Directors of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company the prospectus of the Food Preserving Company (limited), and it has occured to the former that, in place of the two companies competing in this market, and thereby raising the price of meat on themselves, it would be desirable that the companies unite on some fair basis.

The Sydney Meat Preserving Company has, after infinite trouble, secured an eligible site for carrying on their works, with the railway on one side, the public road on the other, and a stream which at a very small expense may be made navigable to the harbour, running through the ground.

They have sufficient freehold land to form paddocks (which are all securely fenced) for the reception of stock, and the works are within two miles of the Central Sale Yards for live stock at Homebush.

The works have been erected on a carefully matured plan, after the Managing Director had personally inspected all the preserving works in the other colonies then in operation.

The preserving plant, capable of preserving 1000 sheep per diem, with full plant for making Liebig's extract, are on the Appert's principle of open calcium baths, and on the Deptford principle of retorts, and the Jones' patent could be applied at very little additional cost.

When the works and buildings are completed and the balance of contracts paid up, the Sydney Meat Preserving Company's works will have stood them in about £12,000, and they would be willing to make over the whole of their property to an English company at £15,000, payable two-thirds in cash, one-third in shares of the Company.

The advantage to the English Company would be the securing the well-selected site and suitable buildings of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company, as they could commence operations at once, having partly a colonial proprietary, and through them a monopoly of the trade in Sydney for the present.

The advantage to the Sydney Meat Preserving Company would be having an interest in a large and wealthy English Company, and sharing in the monopoly that Company would possess in Sydney, in place of having to compete as rivals; and, if the English Company desired it, the present directors of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company, or some of them, would be willing to act as local directors in connection with the English Company.

Some of the last reports are enclosed for further information.

I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully,
SML. HALLEN, Secretary.
John Bell, Esq., 6, East India Avenue, London.

J. B. WATT, Esq., moved, and ALEXANDER M'DONALD, Esq., seconded the following resolutions, which were unanimously agreed to by the shareholders:—

"1. That the Board of Directors be authorised to sell all the lands, tenements, hereditaments, and other property belonging to the Sydney Meat Preserving Company to the Food Preserving Company for the sum of £15,000, the same to be paid in the following manner—that is to say, £10,000 in cash, and £5000 in shares of the said Food Preserving Company.

"2. That the said sum of £10,000 shall, after answering all existing claims on the Sydney Meat Preserving Company, be paid to and distributed amongst the shareholders of the said Company and their respective executors and administrators in the proportions in which they shall respectively be entitled to and interested in the capital, property, and effects of the said Sydney Meat Preserving Company.

"3. That the said shares of the said Food Preserving Company, taken in payment of the said sum of £5000, shall be distributed amongst such of the shareholders of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company as may desire to take the same in the proportions in which they shall be respectively entitled to and interested in the capital, property, and effects of the said Sydney Meat Preserving Company."

J. B. WATT, Esq., moved, and R. L. JENKINS, Esq., seconded the following resolution, which was also carried:—

"4. That, if it be found necessary, the Board of Directors be empowered to apply to the Legislature for an Act to enable them to carry into effect the preceding resolutions."

On the motion of the Hon. S. D. GORDON, Esq., M.L.C., the chair was vacated by John Lackey, Esq., and taken by Henry Mort, Esq.

The Hon. S. D. GORDON moved,—"That the thanks of the shareholders be given to the Chairman and Directors of the company for their energy and perseverance in bringing the works of the Company to their present state of efficiency."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

PROSPECTUS OF THE ABERCROMBIE GROUND SLUICING COMPANY.

Capital, £4500, in 450 shares of £10 each; 225 of which, paid-up, to be reserved to the proprietors, and 225 sold at £10 each, for the purpose of raising sufficient capital to place machinery on the ground. One pound per share on application, remaining £9 to be paid in one or two calls, as soon as may be decided by the Directors.

To be registered under the Limited Liability Act.

DIRECTORS.
James Rodd, Esq.
John Barlow, Esq.
Charles Verity, Esq.

The property consists of 9 acres alluvial ground, leased from the Crown (known as Butcher's Flat), on the banks of the Abercrombie River, about 12 miles below the junction of the Tuena Creek with that river. In addition to the 9 acres there are about 15 or 20 acres more land at the back of this which the Company can take up at any time, it being of no value to others without the water frontage. The proprietors have had several men at work many weeks prospecting the ground, and it is found to contain richly payable gold throughout. It was worked by the tub and cradle process with advantage fourteen years ago. The pillars and walls which were then left standing, comprising perhaps a fourth of the ground, will yield from half an ounce to one ounce to the load, and the whole of the remaining ground is estimated to yield, at the very least, three-quarter dwts. to the load. The ground varies in thickness from 6 feet to 40 feet, and an average of 20 feet may be depended on. The supply of water is abundant and permanent, and there is every natural facility for working by ground sluicing, as a tail race may be opened having plenty of fall right into the river, which will carry away the tailings as fast as necessary, and thus obviate the difficulty frequently experienced in getting rid of them. The ground itself is of a drifty gravelly nature, and easily acted upon by water.

Figures have been carefully gone into, and engineers have been consulted, and it is found the capital asked for will enable the company to place an engine, pumps, and gear on the ground, that will raise sufficient water to the required height (from 40 to 50 feet) to sluice at least 600 loads a day.

The expected yield is from 1 to 2 dwts. per load, taking an average all through; but in order that the calculations shall be on a perfectly safe basis, it is taken at ½-dwt. per load. This is equal to 15 oz. per day of 10 hours, or 90 oz. per week, which taken at £3 10s per oz. is £315 per week, and the expenses (see appendix) will not exceed £50 per week—thus showing at that rate £1000 a month available for dividends, and it is estimated the ground will last 3 years. THE PRESENT PROPRIETORS ARE AGREEABLE THAT THE MACHINERY PLACED ON THE GROUND BY THE SUSCRIBED CAPITAL SHALL REMAIN THE SOLE PROPERTY OF SUBSCRIBING SHAREHOLDERS UNTIL THEY HAVE RECEIVED THE WHOLE COST OF THEIR SHARES BACK IN DIVIDENDS OR OTHERWISE; IT THEN BECOMES THE PROPERTY OF THE COMPANY.

Two of the directors have been on the ground and are fully satisfied that the yield will be greatly in excess of what is here laid down. The charge against the first capital will be £200. This is to defray expenses to date for men now at work, directors' expenses in visiting the ground, and cost of launching the company. It is well known amongst persons acquainted with ground-sluicing that with good facilities for work 3 grains to the load will pay. The highest authority in Australia, Mr. R. Brough Smith, secretary of the Mining Board, Victoria, in his valuable work on the Gold-fields of Victoria, mentions that at Allan's Flat, Yackandandah, four-fifths of a grain per cubic yard paid expenses (vide report of Royal Commission, page 42 § 114.) Most of the shares are already taken up, and the list will be closed directly the balance are disposed of.

Gentlemen,—I have great pleasure in recording my testimony to the value of your Registered Australian Washing Powder.

It possesses eminent cleansing qualities, and imparts a desirable whiteness without injuring linen of any fineness.

FOR SALE BY PRIVATE CONTRACT.

HEIFER STATION FARM.

J. WINDRED has received instructions from Mr. J. Irvine to dispose by private contract of the whole of his VALUABLE FREEHOLD PROPERTY, being as follows:—

A FARM of 409 acres (more or less), of the finest class agricultural and grazing land, with permanent supply of water. The property is bounded on two sides by stony creeks of clear water. The general aspect of the land is undulating, sloping towards the creeks. The farm is divided into paddocks, mostly cleared, and the remainder being bush paddocks lightly timbered. The grass in the paddocks cannot be equalled, whilst the character of the flats and grassy ridges gives fair indications of gold deposits

The DWELLING-HOUSE, 24 x 36 feet, built of brick, and shingled, with verandah and cellar, contains parlour, dining-room and bedrooms. In addition, there is a detached kitchen, 22 x 14; dairy; wheat shed, 60 x 20; five-stall stable, built of slabs, and bark-roofed; stockyard and pens, strongly built; coachhouse, piggeries, fowlhouse, and other outbuildings substantially erected.

The GARDEN, of 1½ acre, is paled, and contains every description of grown fruit trees and vines, all bearing. In the garden is an excellent well, bricked, with windlass.

The PADDOCKS consist of two, containing two acres each, under cultivation; one of 16 acres, ditto; one of 89 acres, bush land, one of 109 acres, ditto, uncleared. These paddocks are south of a Government road, and include the dwelling-house. All are subdivided and substantially fenced.

On the north of the Government road are one 23-acre paddock, under cultivation; one 18-acre ditto, running to a creek; one 28 acres, under cultivation; and one 120 acres bush land, bounded by creek and Government road; all subdivided with superior fencing.

The Heifer Station Farm is situated about 5 miles from Orange on the main road to Forbes, being a metalled road all the way.

The terms are half cash, and the residue by approved bills. For further particulars apply to the auctioneer.

In submitting the above freehold the Auctioneer, from its well-known capabilities, feels assured little need be said to recommend it to the notice of purchasers. The farm is in the highest state of cultivation, and ready for occupancy without any further outlay than the purchase. It might be mentioned that all the fencing is most substantial and is all three-rail.

IMMEDIATE POSSESSION CAN BE GIVEN.

LAW.

SUPREME COURT.—Friday, March 22.

SITTINGS IN BANCO.

Before Sir Alfred Stephen, Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Hargrave, and Mr. Justice Faucett.

MOTIONS.

BOWMAN AND ANOTHER V. MACANSH—MOTION TO AMEND RULE NISI.

In this case a rule nisi had been granted calling upon defendant to show cause why a new trial should not be granted.

Mr. Darley moved for the amendment of this rule as drawn up and served, by limiting it to a rule for new trial as to the finding of the jury on the third issue.

Sir William Manning, Q.C., and Mr. Henry Stephen opposed the motion, contending that the rule had been rightly drawn up.

There were several grounds included in the rule as drawn up and served, besides the point of the verdict having been against evidence on the third issue. The question was whether or not their Honors had, in granting the rule, intended to confine it to this last-named point.

The Court decided this question in the affirmative, and granted the motion with costs.

Several exparte motions were also heard and disposed of.

COOPER V. BIRRELL.—MOTION NISI FOR NEW TRIAL.

Mr. Butler, for defendant, moved for a rule nisi for new trial of the above case—an action for malicious prosecution—in which the plaintiff had obtained a verdict, with £150 damages. The case was tried at the last sittings for causes before the Chief Justice and a jury of four. Plaintiff had obtained goods on credit from the defendant, a wine merchant, to whom he (plaintiff) stated that he had just taken a public-house, for the goodwill of which he had paid £45, and that he had also paid for his license. The actual facts were that plaintiff had been in the house six weeks, and had paid but a fortnight's rent; that his landlord was not apparently desirous of retaining him (plaintiff) as a tenant; that there was an execution put in the house for rent directly after the defendant's goods had been delivered; that, although defendant's goods had not been distrained upon by the landlord's bailiff, the defendant had some reason for believing, at the time, that they had been so distrained upon; that plaintiff had not, in fact, paid for his license, although he had spoken to a money-lender with a view to the payment of such license by the latter; that such money-lender was himself an uncertificated insolvent, and admitted that he had not the money to advance, but declared that he could have got it from others, and, in effect, that plaintiff had a right to assume that the money had been paid for the license. The Chief Justice ruled that these facts amounted to reasonable and probable cause for the prosecution, and so directed the jury. It was now urged that the finding of the jury for plaintiff in the teeth of this direction was manifestly wrong; that his Honor had misdirected the jury in telling them that plaintiff, having been acquitted of the fraud, must be assumed to be innocent, and that the damages were excessive. As to the presumption from acquittal, it was contended that it did not go so far as his Honor had held, and that the accuracy of this verdict was open to be legitimately questioned and discussed. As to the question of damages, it was contended that the antecedents of the plaintiff were such as to disentitle him to any such amount as the jury had awarded.

The Court granted a rule upon the ground that the verdict of the jury was against the direction of the Judge as to the existence of reasonable or probable cause, but refused it upon the other grounds. The Chief Justice considered that the verdict of the jury—who were the judges of the facts—ought not to be interfered with on either of these last-named grounds. Although he would not himself have given the plaintiff £10, he was not prepared to say that the jury were wrong in their estimate of damages, for there was abundant evidence of what, according to law, was malice, and the jury might have increased the damages on this ground. They might have thought, too, as the evidence seemed to show, that the defendant's chief object had been to get back his goods, and that he acted harshly in procuring the issue of a warrant instead of a summons. As to the other point, however, defendant had not only reasonable and probable cause for charging the plaintiff with obtaining goods from him (defendant) on false pretences, but the goods had, in fact, been thus obtained. The statements of plaintiff, that he had "just" taken a public-house and paid for his license, &c., had the effect of raising a belief—which was contrary to the fact—that plaintiff was a man of means, who might be safely trusted, being only temporarily short of cash because of his having paid away money for the purposes mentioned. Mr. Justice Hargrave differed from the Chief Justice as to the existence of reasonable and probable cause, being of opinion that as the plaintiff had, in fact, a public-house, and had made arrangements with a money-lender to pay for the license, the statements which he had made to the defendant were substantially true. Mr. Justice Faucett agreed with the Chief Justice.

HOGG AND OTHERS V. COWAN AND OTHERS—RULE NISI TO DISSOLVE INJUNCTION.

This was a motion on rule nisi to set aside an injunction at common law granted by Mr. Justice Faucett on an exparte application for the plaintiffs, restraining the defendants from mining for gold, &c., on a certain claim at Gulgong, known as No. 1 North Royal Standard.

Sir William Manning, Q.C., appeared in support of the motion; and Mr. Butler in support of the injunction.

The litigants in this case were rival parties of gold miners. An action had been brought for trespass with damages laid at £500. It was in this action that the injunction had been granted. A variety of points were raised, but that upon which the case turned was, there was a local tribunal with power to deal with this matter to which resort ought to have been had, ere an injunction was applied for.

The Court sustained this view of the case, and dissolved the injunction. Rule absolute, costs to be costs in the suit generally.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.

FRIDAY.

Before Mr. District Court Judge Simpson.

PRELIMINARY BUSINESS.

Eight ca. sa. motions were called on and disposed of, and four were postponed. In the motion for a new trial in the case of Wright v. Hughes, the application was refused. In the new trial motion Seamer and others versus Friend, the application was refused, but without costs.

WILLIAMS V. PERCIVAL.

This was an action brought by John Williams against Emma Percival for rent. Plaintiff claimed £21. Verdict for the plaintiff, £19 10s. Mr. W. H. Pigott appeared for the plaintiff.

RUDD V. WALFORD AND ANOTHER.

This was an action brought by Frederick William Rudd, against William Barnard Walford and William Edward Sparke, for £200, for trespass, trover, and detenue. The plaintiff's case was that, whilst carrying on business at the Fosterville Hotel, he had been illegally levied upon by defendants. Plaintiff stated that persons, supposed to be bailiffs, had effected an entrance into his residence before-mentioned, three or four days after he went there to live, and that defendants had done this by way of levy on the goods of a man named Cleary, who had left the premises about a fortnight before. The goods levied upon were bona fide Rudd's goods, and not Cleary's. This had been done although defendants had had full notice that Cleary had gone away from the house some time before. Rudd had got a transfer of the license, and had been carrying on business for three or four days before the cause of action took place. Sparke had admitted to Cleary that the execution was not against him but against one Thomas Cleary. Papers were handed in which went, in some degree, to shew that there had been some such levy intended in the case of Walford against Cleary, but no direct evidence of the fact of such levy having taken place was given for the plaintiff. Mr. Sparke, one of the defendants, having been called upon for the plaintiff, said that there had been a judgment for himself and Walford against one Cleary, but that he (Mr. Sparke) had told his attorney, Mr. Iceton, not to go on with the case against Cleary. By some mistake, however, certain steps in the way of a levy had, it appeared, been subsequently made, and all this plaintiff Sparke went and stopped when Rudd spoke to him about it. Sparke had distinctly told Iceton to abandon proceedings against Cleary. Rudd had asked him to let the form of an execution go on for a day or two for his (Rudd's) interest. The attorney had distinct orders from defendants to discontinue proceedings. Mr. Stephen contended that the remedy of his client was against the defendants, even if what was complained of was but the act of their attorney. An attorney was a general agent, until the contrary should be clearly shown. Mr. Salomons, as a matter of law, denied this. The Judge considered that the plaintiff had not made out his case. The plaintiff was nonsuited. Mr. H. Stephen, instructed by Mr. J. W. Johnson, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Salomons, instructed by Mr. Iceton, appeared for the defendant.

BUCKERTY V. BOROUGH OF CAMPERDOWN.

This case was postponed, by consent, until Monday next.

ROOKE V. CORBEN.

This was an action between Charles Henry Rooke and Jonathan Corben. Mr. H. C. Colyer for plaintiff, and Mr. R. B. Smith for defendant. Plaintiff claimed £17 10s. The case was called on and struck out, some understanding having been come to by the parties concerned.

Grace Bland deposed that defendant came to her shop and offered for sale a coat and a pair of trousers, which, as he was in liquor, she refused to buy; he offered a locket, which also she refused, putting him off by saying that she had a locket already, showing him one; he took it into his hand, looked at it, put it into his pocket, and was walking away with it, when she called her husband; her husband came, and a scuffle took place, in the course of which her locket fell from defendant's pocket. To pay a penalty of £4, or to be imprisoned one month.

THE PARRAMATTA RIVER MURDERS.

INQUEST ON MR. WALKER.

At 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon, the City Coroner resumed, at his office, Hyde Park, the inquest respecting the death of Mr. W. P. Walker, whose body was found in the Parramatta River on Tuesday last, with a mortal wound on the head. Prisoners Nichols and Lester were again before the Court in custody. Their appearance was much the same as on the previous day. Lester looked worn and sickly. The Coroner's Court and an apartment which opens into it were crowded with spectators, as was also the avenue leading to the Court. The interest they manifested in the proceedings was evidently very great.

The following evidence was submitted:—

Detective Elliott, recalled, deposed that he produced a copy of the S. M. Herald, dated March 4th, 1872, in which there appeared two advertisements, one—"A steady man required for country store. Drive pair-horse waggon. T. Y. C., Herald Office;" under that advertisement appeared "Clerk wanted, active, intelligent, for country store; liberal salary to competent person. T. Y. C., Herald;" [these advertisements were marked exhibit R]; he also produced a manuscript having reference to those two advertisements; both advertisements appear on one manuscript produced—one piece of paper [marked exhibit S]; the advertisements were in the same handwriting; on Thursday, the 14th instant, he made a communication to the officer in charge of the detectives (Mr. Wager), and afterwards on that day went to the auction rooms of Messrs. Lister and Grisdale, situated in Pitt-street; he gave them certain information, and requested of them, if certain things occurred, to let him know; on Saturday morning last, the 16th, in company with detectives Camphin and M'Dowall, he went to the before-mentioned sale-room at 8 o'clock in the morning to await the arrival of two men named Nichols and Froude; he went inside, leaving the other two officers outside; about half-past 10 o'clock Nichols (now before the Court) came into the auction room; he had a conversation with him about the case of Bridger; he then asked him if he had received certain things from Froude—meaning Lester, now before the Court; he said "Froude—who is Froude?" he said "You know Froude—you were seen in his company, and you were in gaol with him;" he said, "Oh! Froude—he is not in town;" he then asked him "where he (Nichols) lived," and he gave witness his address as 52, Prince-street, and stated that he was residing there with his wife and children; he asked him if he would tell him whose horse and cart it was that he (Nichols) came to the auction room with on the Wednesday previous; he said "It is my own;" he then asked him if he stabled his horse at the premises in Prince-street; he said, "No, I do not," and refused to tell me where the horse was stabled; he told witness that he had got the things from a man who was living at the Surry Hills; he refused to give witness the name of the man, or his address, but gave a description of a man with a large light beard; he subsequently stated that this man walked lame, but not with a crutch; he stated that he had to meet this person at the railway with this cart at half-past 12 o'clock or a quarter to 1 o'clock; yesterday morning about 9 o'clock witness charged Nichols, at the Central Police station, with being concerned with a man named Froude alias Lester in killing and murdering a man named W. P. Walker, on or about the 13th instant; in reply to that charge he said, "It is a complete mystery to me, Elliott—it will be solved in time;" when witness was bringing him from the gaol, yesterday, he was wearing the same clothing that he had on on Saturday; he observed at the back part of his trousers a large mark which he believed to be the mark of blood; he has the same trousers now on him in Court; he was in custody from Saturday till yesterday on another charge on which he had been remanded; when witness had the conversation with Nichols on Saturday at the salerooms, there was no charge whatever against him; he (Mr. Elliott) was simply making inquiries.

Prisoners declined to ask witness any questions, Nichols—in a firm voice—saying "None whatever."

Detective Camphin deposed that at 9 o'clock yesterday, he charged Alfred Lester, otherwise Froude, he being at that time in custody on another charge, with being concerned with a man, named Nichols, in killing and murdering one William P. Walker, on or about the 13th instant; he replied, "I hear it;" on Saturday evening, the 16th, about a quarter-past 7 o'clock, witness went to the shop of Mr. Moss, jeweller, of the Haymarket; he there saw Lester in the shop near the door; witness held a receipt produced in his hand at the time, and showing it to him he asked where he got a watch described in it (receipt exhibit I); this was a receipt for a watch dated 5th October, 1871, for a watch purchased by Mr. Thomas Tindale, Mountain Hut, Amphitheatre, from T. Gaunt, watchmaker and jeweller, 14, Bourke-street East, corner of Royal Arcade, Melbourne; the watch was described as a silver hunting English lever watch, £9 9s. paid, engraving inscription on watch 10s., commission on cheque and postage 1s.—total £10; in reply to this question Froude said "Oh it is all right Mr. Camphin," he also said "It is not my watch;" witness asked "Whose watch is it?" he said it is Walker's;" witness said "Who is Walker;" he said, "Oh, he lives over here," pointing in the direction of the Haymarket clock; he then brought him out of the shop; when he got him outside he said, "Nichols gave me that watch to sell for him;" witness asked where did he give it to you; he said "in the street—I met him this morning," he then asked Froude where he was living, and he said, "that up to the last three weeks he had been living with Nichols in Prince-street;" he asked him where he was living now, and he said "At Mrs. Howell's, at Miller's Point;" he then told him that he expected he would be charged with a murder; he said, "Murder! what murder?" witness said, the murder of a man named Bridger, who was steward on board H.M. ship Rosario; he said "Do you mean the man who was floating in the Parramatta River?"

The Coroner said that he was afraid this would be irrelevant unless he could connect it with the case of Mr. Walker.

Witness said that he was giving his evidence lest it might be said that he suppressed any conversation.

The Coroner said that if that was the only reason it was not pertinent.

Witness resumed: On Saturday night, Froude was charged at the watch-house with another offence, and gave his address as 52, Prince-street; on his arresting him on the second charge he had on a black alpaca coat, a green tie, and a collar. [Produced bundle exhibit U]; on the collar, a linen one, the letters "W. P. W." appeared; there was also some other mark distinct from this—the figure 12; he also found in his possession a pocket-knife, which he got in his pocket [produced exhibit V], and a business card, "Mr. Myer, dentist, 77, Swanston-street, opposite the police-court, Melbourne;" on the back of the card was written, "Received, £1 17s 6d, for mouthpiece. B. Myer. June 5th, '69;" he did not ask how he came possessed of the pocket-knife; on Saturday morning witness went with detectives Elliott and M'Dowall to Lister's auction rooms, Pitt-street; witness and M'Dowall went to the opposite side of Pitt-street, while detective Elliott went into the auction room to wait for Lester and Nichols; about half-past 10 he saw Nichols enter the auction room apparently from the direction of Market-street; two or three minutes afterwards he followed him to the auction room; he was then in conversation with detective Elliott; he heard Elliott ask him if Froude had given him those clothes—alluding to a mattress, &c., which had been taken to the auction room; he said "Froude—who is Froude;" he (Elliott) said in reply "You know him very well—I have seen you with him;" "Oh, no," he replied, "Froude is not in town;" Nichols then said to witness, "This is a nice thing—that man sending me here;" witness asked "Who is he—what is his name;" he did not think that he made a reply; he then asked him what description of man; he said "He was a tall, good-looking man, stout, with fair whiskers. I have to meet him at the railway station at half-past 12 o'clock;" he heard Elliott also speak to him about a cart.

The Coroner said that he thought it unnecessary for the witness to repeat what had been already told by detective Elliott.

Detective Camphin resumed: He found on searching Froude the sum of 5s.; looking at a watch [exhibit D] he found it agreed with a description in a watchmaker's receipt also shown to him; on the face were the words "Thomas Gaunt, Melbourne;" on the works was the same with figures 9,959; it was stated to be an English lever; there was an inscription on the back of the inside case; the watch was that alluded to in the receipt [exhibit T]; Lester, alias Froude, was taken on Sunday, the 18th instant, to the No. 2 police station, and was there shown the boxes exhibits L and C; he was there asked by Mr. Inspector Read in witness's presence if there was anything there (pointing to the boxes in the watch-house) which he claimed as his; he said, "I decline to say anything until I go to a higher Court."

Prisoners declined to ask witness any questions.

Detective Elliott, recalled, deposed that the watch produced (exhibit D) he received from a man named George Moss, at his premises, Haymarket, at about half-past 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, the 16th instant; it is now in the same state as when witness got it from Moss, with locket and chain attached.

Isaac Moss, sworn, deposed that he resided at the Haymarket, and carried on the business of a jeweller and photographer; the watch, chain, and locket produced (D) he recognised; he gave it to his brother, George Moss; he received it from Alfred Lester, one of the prisoners before the Court, last Saturday morning, the 16th instant, at his (witness's) place of business; Lester came to the counter at a little after 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and asked him whether witness was a purchaser of jewellery; witness told him he was anxious to earn money in a fair way, or to purchase goods in a fair way; he asked Lester what he would take for the watch; he handed him the watch and chain produced, and witness asked him what he wanted for it, and prisoner said £5; he examined it, and said he did not think he could give more than £3 for it; he passed it over to his brother for examination, who found one part loose; his brother told him that the watch was enquired about; witness asked Lester where he got the watch, and prisoner replied, "it was a present; I got it for my services as a musician;" witness said, "You must have been clever to have got such a prize, and well up in music;" prisoner wanted witness to close the bargain, and witness said he would not buy the watch unless he could prove where he got it; he asked witness to return the watch, and witness told him it was as safe in his hands as anyone else's, but if he brought proof where he got it and the receipt he would give him a fair price for it; he asked him for the watch two or three times, and then left, saying he would get the receipt to show that the watch was his; witness gave the watch to his brother, who gave it to detective Elliott in his (witness's) presence; he had no doubt whatever that the prisoner who gave the name of Alfred Lester brought the watch and chain to him; Lester returned at 6 o'clock in the evening with a receipt for the watch, showing that the watch was purchased from Gaunt, Melbourne; the watch was described in the receipt; receipt produced is the one Lester brought witness. He gave witness the receipt and said, "There is the receipt to prove I got the watch honestly;" witness asked him his name, when Lester first brought the watch, and he said it was Walker; he (witness) had no doubt in his mind about it; witness gave the receipt to his brother, who took it to the police office, and a policeman came down, and took prisoner Lester into custody; he asked Lester how the watch got rusted, and he said he fell in the water three days before.

Henry Wager, sworn deposed, that he is officer in charge of the detective police; on Monday last, the 18th instant, in consequence of something that Frederick Stephenson said to him, he went, by direction of the Inspector-General of Police, in company with detective Camphin, to No. 6, Bridge-street; he there saw Letitia Stephenson, and told her he was of the detective police, and had been sent by the Inspector-General to take possession of a box which her brother said had been left in his care by Mr. Walker; she handed him the box produced (leather hat box marked W) which was locked; the box was opened by the Inspector-General in witness's presence and that of others and a list taken of its contents. [Witness here read the list.] In the box was the crimean shirt produced, marked with a cross in circle and W. P. W. underneath, and a letter referring to the presentation of a gold albert [letter read]; the letter is dated "Amphitheatre, 30th October"; he also produced a receipt for a gold albert (£6) which was also in the box; it says, "Bought of T. Gaunt, 14, Bourke-street East, Melbourne," also a receipt from the General Post Office, Melbourne, for a registered letter for "T. Tindale, Amphitheatre," from Gaunt; he produced another registered letter receipt dated 16th February, 1872, Melbourne, for S. Woosley, Avoca; also the draft of a letter to T. Y. C., but without signature (witness read the letter, which was an application for the situation advertised in the Herald of the 4th instant, with the initials "T. Y. C." He also produced an envelope addressed "Mr. Walker, 6, Bridge-street;" when he (witness) found it it contained a letter, which he also produced, signed "Arthur T. Norton," and dated March 13th, 1872. The letter was to the following effect:—"Mr. Walker.—Sir,—I beg to inform you that I have authorised Mr. James to close with you with respect to the clerkship advertised in the Herald of the 4th instant. The salary will be 30s. per week, and you will reside with us." Witness also produced a pocketbook found in the box; there are a number of entries in it, to some of which witness would refer. The extract is headed, "Things to be done as soon as possible after this abominable conspiracy is settled," and is as follows:—"Mr. L. Worsley to be paid, and also Mr. Turner's fee for services rendered on December 30th, 1871, 21s.; Church service to be sent to Mrs. Hammond, the pair of cuffs and one front to be returned to Mr. Annand. My books to be removed to L.'s from Woodland House, and also all my property from H——. Final wishes—My true friend please forward to my dear mother £15 at once, and another sum to the like amount in December, 1872. My presentation watch and gold albert chain and also my set of amethyst studs to be made into a parcel; the parcel to be insured and sent per Gibbs, Bright, and Company, and a letter telling Mr. Power, of Vetnor, I. of W., that they are from me with truest love and blessings. My books, letters, and papers not to be destroyed or sold, but with all my property neatly packed in a box to be left in charge of Mr. Lee, to await my return or further disposal. The money left in your hands to be invested in P. O. S. B. in the name of Wm. Prewett, and the book to be put in charge or held by yourself." (The remaining items refer to certain amounts paid by deceased.) Some of the entries in the pocket-book agree in the writing with the draft letter; witness compared the handwriting in the pocket-book and that of the draft letter with a card found in exhibit I (the "Christian Year"); he believed the handwriting to be the same; he produced the metal plate with three false teeth also found in the box; witness had experience in the comparison of handwritings.

Charles Edwards, recalled, said he gave evidence on the first day of the inquiry, and he then stated that he had seen a letter signed "A. T. Norton," and dated 13th March, 1872; it was shown to him by deceased who had a conversation with him about the engagement; he had seen at Mrs. Stephenson's a box belonging to deceased, but he could not identify it; he knew that he had false teeth; deceased took out of his mouth five false teeth on a silver plate with gold mountings; they were for the upper jaw; the man who gives his name as George Robert Nichols is the man that called to see deceased on the early part of Wednesday, the 13th; he had no doubt whatever of his identity; that was the only occasion that he saw him call at Mrs. Stephenson's.

By jury: The plate with teeth [exhibit I], he recognised as the plate that deceased wore in his upper jaw.

Prisoners declined to ask any questions.

Charles Napier deposed that he was a clerk residing at 13, Jamison-street; he looked at the Herald of the 4th instant; he answered an advertisement in it for "a clerk for a country store, active and intelligent;" it was signed "T. Y. C.;" his reply was addressed to "T. Y. C.," Herald Office, in accordance with the direction in the advertisement; on Monday, the 11th of March, he received a letter now marked Exhibit X.

We append letter [X] read by Napier. It is addressed to Mr. Charles Napier, 13, Jamison-street.

"March 11, 1872.

"Will Mr. Napier have the kindness to meet me this afternoon respecting advertisement in last week's Herald for clerk in a country store.

"Having had so many applications, I have found some difficulty in selecting a suitable person.

"5 p.m., Petty's Hotel.

"Yours, &c.,

"Thos. Y. Clarke."

He went at 5 o'clock on the same day, in compliance with the letter, and saw a man who gave his name as Clarke; he asked if his name was Napier, and he said "Yes," and replied, "I presume you are Mr. Clarke;" he said "Yes;" he said that he had selected my application out of about half a dozen—that he was pleased with my appearance; he asked my views about salary; I agreed to go to his store, and I was to meet him at the Parramatta steamers' wharf on the following day (Tuesday) at 5 o'clock; he said that witness was to bring down any luggage he had; nothing further passed between them; on the following day he received another letter, also signed "T. Y. Clarke," which he also produced [exhibit Y]:—

We also give a copy of exhibit Y, referred to by witness Napier:—

"March 12th, 1872.

"Mr. C. Napier,

"Sir,—I am indeed very sorry to inform you that I have received letters from my brother this morning to the effect that he has re-engaged our late clerk. I am therefore compelled to relinquish the idea of engaging one in Sydney.

"Trusting that I have not put you to any inconvenience,

"I am, your obedient servant,

"Thos. Y. Clarke."

He stated for reasons assigned to him that his services were not required; did not see Mr. Clarke after Monday; on that day he asked him if he had been long in the colonies, and he said, "No; that he had no experience of country life—and that he had only been three weeks in the country, adding that he had a sister in the country, but did not know whether she would like to join him; he asked him how much luggage he had, so that he might know how much room was wanted for it in the waggon; he replied that he would possibly have two boxes and a carpet bag; he understood from Mr. Clarke that his store was from six to eight miles away from Orange; George Robert Nichols before the Court was the gentleman who told him that he was Mr. Clarke; he believed he addressed him in consequence of receiving a letter from Mr. Clarke; he thought he said to "Mr. Clarke," that he had received his letter, and then the conversation proceeded; he was quite certain that the man in Court who gives his name as Nichols is the man who represented himself as Mr. Clarke.

Prisoners declined to ask any questions.

At close upon 1 o'clock, the inquest was adjourned till 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The inquest was resumed at 2 o'clock, the following further evidence being then taken:—

George Henry Harrison deposed that he was a seaman living at the Sailors' Home; had been on the Atlantic, but he was at present out of employ; he had occasion to answer an advertisement that appeared in the Herald of the 4th:—"Wanted, a clerk for country store; active and intelligent; liberal salary to competent person. T. Y. C., Herald." He replied to that advertisement; he answered that advertisement, addressing his reply to T. Y. C., Herald Office, in pursuance of the advertisement; he addressed the reply on the 4th; on the 12th some person, a man, waited on him, at the Sailors' Home; he was in his room, and the steward told him he was wanted; he went down stairs, and saw the man, who said, "Are you the man who answered an advertisement of mine in the Herald of last week?" he did not say the date; witness said "yes;" he asked whether he had been in a situation before, and he said he had been in one under his father in England; he then asked, "Have you any friends or relations to whom he might refer him, or any references to show?" he told the man that he had no friends, but that he had a brother who was on the coast on a steamboat, and that the only reference he could show him was his certificate of discharge from his last vessel; he then asked whether he was in debt at the Sailors' Home where he was boarding; he said no, on the contrary, Captain Robertson is indebted three or four days' board to him; he then asked, "Have you any ready cash;" he said, "No;" he then asked what luggage he had; he told him that he only had a bag of clothes; he asked him if he wished any money in advance to buy any clothes with; he told him, "No, he had sufficient;" he then said to the man, "I suppose I must leave a good many of my clothes behind me?" he said, "Why?" he said some of the clothes I have worn on board ship will not suit me in the situation I am going to occupy, as they are of too rough a nature;" he told him to bring all he had got as he would have to rough it very badly sometimes; he added, "I have to wear very rough clothing myself sometimes;" he asked, "What salary do you require?" he said, "I will leave it to you, as the salary is not so much an object as a situation;" he said, "I will give you £1 a week, and find you in board, washing, and lodging;" he again asked him if he wanted any advance, and he said "No;" and he said the only article he would require would be a pair of trousers, which he would supply at cost price; that he would treat him like a brother, and that he would call with his brother on that day and tell him when he would be wanted; this interview took place at half-past 11 o'clock, and at half-past 12 o'clock he received the following letter, which he found on the table at the Sailors' Home. It was dated March 12th, 1872, and was signed T. J. Norton. The letter he received read as follows:—

"Royal Hotel.

"Mr. Harrison, 'Sir,—I beg to inform you I have engaged a clerk. Wishing that you will obtain a situation soon,

"I am, Sir, yours,

"T. J. Norton."

By whom this letter (marked exhibit Z) was left he did not know; the man did not give his name; George Robert Nichols before the Court is the man with whom he had the interview; during that interview the man, or Nichols, alluded to the advertisement as "my advertisement"; at the interview that morning prisoner said the situation was up the country; he also said there was no use going up there for two or three months, and that he (witness) would have to sign for twelve months.

George Wallace Nicoll, sworn, deposed that he is a commission agent, carrying on business at No. 3, Erskine-street; he knew George Robert Nichols for a short time; he was in witness's employ for three or four months, as clerk and occasionally as collector; he did not know him as Nichols at that time; he then went by the name of "William H. Mitchell;" the last day he was in witness's employ was on the 10th July, 1869, when he left; he was acquainted with Nichols's handwriting, and quite familiar with it from having seen his writing in his (witness's) books, and also by Nichols's writing in his presence; he produced a sheet of paper from one of the account books; excepting in two very small entries, the whole of the writing is in the handwriting of George Robert Nichols; he swore to that; after looking at the writing in the book marked "exhibit M," he recognised it as the handwriting of George Robert Nichols; the two manuscript advertisements [exhibit S] he did not recognise as the handwriting of George Robert Nichol's; several of the letters are not so good as in the other writing; upon looking at the letter and envelope (exhibit A2) signed "Arthur T. Norton," addressed to "Mr. Walker, 6, Bridge-street," he recognised the handwriting on the envelope and letter most distinctly as that of George Robert Nichols; upon looking at envelope and letter (exhibit X) addressed to Mr. "Charles Napier," and signed "Thomas F. Clarke," dated March 11th, he recognised the handwriting of the letter as that of George Robert Nichols, but did not recognise the other; on the envelope he looked at (exhibit Y) addressed "Mr. C. Napier" and signed "Thomas F. Clarke," dated March 12th, he recognised the handwriting in the letter as that of George Robert Nichols, but did not recognise the writing on the envelope; looking at exhibit "3," a letter addressed to Mr. Harrison, dated March 12th, signed "T. T. Norton," it is in the handwriting of George Robert Nichols; he had no doubt that the handwriting of the whole of the exhibits shown to him was that of George Robert Nichols.

Mary Downey, sworn, deposed that she is a barmaid engaged at Blow's hotel, corner of King and Sussex streets.

Just look at these boxes, and tell me whether you recognise any of them? I did not see the box; I saw a party bringing the box in, but did not see the box.

On what day was it? I think on Wednesday.

What! on last Wednesday? I am not certain, but I think it was last Wednesday week.

You said a party; what do you mean by that? I saw a man bringing a box into Mr. Blow's on last Wednesday week; I think it was last Wednesday week.

What time of the day was it? I do not know the time.

Was it before midday or after midday? I think it was in the afternoon.

Did you see where the box was taken? I saw it taken through the bar into the parlour.

One man took it in? I think it was one man, but I am not sure; he took it through the bar into the parlour.

Did you see any others follow into the back room? I do not remember; there were so many people in the bar at the time.

Do you recognise the man who took the box in? I do not think I would; I never saw his face at all.

Look round at this man behind you, and look at them both? I do not recognise either of the men.

Did you see the box removed? A man came and told me he was going to take the box away.

When? I think it was on the following day.

Perhaps you will remember who took the box away? I think that man (pointing to Nichols) is the man.

Did you see the person who took it away? I believe that is the man who spoke to me about the box; yes, that is the man.

About what time of the day was that? I have no idea.

Was it morning, midday, or after midday? I have not the slightest recollection what time of the day it was.

But it was on the following day? Yes.

It was left on Wednesday evening? I think so.

But it was on the following day you think, but cannot say whether it was morning, noon, or night; and that Nichols first came to speak about it? Yes.

What did he say about the box? He asked me whether he might leave the box for a time, and I told him yes.

That was the following morning after it was left. Now what did the man who called say about it? He spoke to me about the box, and said he had called for the box he had left.

Did you know what box he referred to? I knew he had left a box.

When? I knew he had left a box some time before, but did not know exactly when, but I knew he referred to the same box; he asked me, on the day it was left, whether it might be left.

Do you know the man who asked permission to leave it? Yes, that is the man (pointing to Nichols).

Well, he asked permission to leave it, and it was left, and you saw it pass through the bar? I saw some one take something.

When you first spoke of it, you spoke of it as a box. First, he asked permission to leave the box, and you say the box came through; try to remember who took the box through? No; I can't say who carried the box.

Nichols called next day, and spoke to you about it? Yes.

And you saw it removed? Yes.

Who took it? I saw Nichols and some other person take it out.

Look round; have a careful good look at the other man, and see whether you can say anything about him? No; I cannot say.

You cannot say whether Alfred Lester is the other man? No.

But there were two who took it out? Yes.

Did you see how it was taken away from the house? No. I only saw two men go through the bar with it.

And how it was taken from there you cannot say? No.

Had George Robert Nichols anything to drink the previous evening when he asked permission to leave the box? I do not know whether he had.

Did he take anything with him? Yes; he took some drink in a bottle the first day before he asked permission to leave the box.

Was he alone when he asked permission to leave the box? Yes.

It was the same day that he asked permission to leave the box that it was left? Yes.

You said he took away some drink with him the day he asked permission to leave the box; what was it? I do not remember the drink he took away.

Was he alone upon that occasion? Yes.

And you are not able to identify the box? No.

A juror: Did you notice the colour of the box—dark or light? No, I did not.

Prisoners declined to ask any questions.

Mr. J. H. Palmer, Parliamentary shorthand writer, was here called by the Coroner, who said that he would place in his hands all the papers, letters, and manuscript advertisements for examination and comparison. With reference to the first, one marked A1, it was sworn that the handwriting is that of George Robert Nichols, who was in the employ of Mr. Nicoll for some months. Mr. Nicoll had extracted the sheet from his book, and swears it is in the handwriting of George Robert Nichols. That being so he would hand him (Mr. Palmer) the letters, papers, and manuscript advertisements, and ask him to look at them and say whether in his opinion the handwriting was the same, and whether it was the same handwriting as the sheet taken from Mr. Nichols's book.

Ellen Reiby was the next witness called.

Where do you reside? At Mr. Blow's Commercial Hotel, at the corner of King and Sussex streets.

In what capacity are you employed? As nursemaid.

Do you remember a box being left there some time ago? I remember two men taking away a box, but do not remember its being left.

Do you remember seeing the box there? Yes.

Where? Under a little table in the parlour.

I suppose there is more than one parlour? Yes, but this is in the King-street parlour.

Can you tell us when that was? I think it was on Thursday.

Yesterday? No; yesterday week I saw it.

Look at these boxes and see if you recognise them? Yes, this box (marked exhibit C), I believe this is the box, from the hair, and it is the same size as the box I saw.

And, judging from appearances, you believe it is the same box? Yes; but I do not believe it had this piece broken out when I saw it.

But you believe it is the same box? Yes.

And you saw a man take away that box on Thursday? Yes, I think it was Thursday.

Now turn round and have a look at the two men there? I only noticed one man.

By saying you only noticed one you mean that you think you can only identify one? Yes.

Turn round and see who you can identify? I think that is the one (pointing to Nichols), I am not sure, but I believe that is the man.

You had not any chat with him? No, he only looked at me as he took the box through the parlour.

And as he looked at you you took notice of him? I saw his face.

Have you any doubt, looking at him again that he is the man? I could not swear he is the man, but it is very much like him.

What sort of man was the other who assisted in taking the box? I do not know, but the two were together.

Can you describe the second man? I do not know how he was dressed.

About what size was he? He was a short man.

About what age? I do not know; I could not tell.

Can you say whether he was young or old? He was not a very old man.

What is your idea of a very old man; what do you mean by that? He was not very old, I think.

I want you to define what you mean by not a very old man? Because he was not grey.

What is the reason you say he was not a very old man—look round at the other man (Lester), and look at him again? [Lester was here directed to stand up.] I cannot say; I did not notice.

But you believe Nichols is one of the two? Yes.

But you can't say whether Lester is the other person? No.

Did you see how the box was taken away from the premises when it was taken out? No, I did not.

Prisoners did not ask any questions.

Theresa Ann Jones, sworn and examined by the Coroner:—

You live with Mrs. Stephenson, at 6, Bridge-street? Yes.

And have been some time there? Nine weeks come Tuesday.

You know a gentleman who was staying there named Walker? Mr. Walker.

I presume in the discharge of your duties you had to clean out his room? Yes.

He lived there a fortnight, and you had occasion to go into his room daily during that period? Yes.

Had he a box there? Yes.

What sort of box? Well, it was not a very large trunk; it was a black trunk, and on the lid there was hair; down the middle of the lid was a piece of wood and pigskin.

Would you know the box again if you saw it? I would.

Now look round this court and say whether you observe the box. Yes, that is the box which was in Mr. Walker's room; it is marked "Exhibit C."

That was the box Mr. Walker had in his room? Yes, it is.

Did you ever see any of Mr. Walker's things about? Well, I believe I saw little nicknacks about; I saw a white marcella vest.

Had you his watch in your hand? No, I had not.

Prisoners declined to ask any questions.

George Buckley examined by Coroner.

Where do you reside? Buckley's Wharf, off Kent-street.

What is your business? I am a boat proprietor.

Do you remember any of the men before the Court—George Robert Nichols or Alfred Lester? I recognise them.

Now will you tell the jury if you have had any business transactions with these two men or either of them at any time? On three different times I myself hired them a boat, and on one occasion my daughter.

Confine yourself to what you did? I hired them a boat on the 12th and the 13th.

Was there a hiring on Tuesday? Yes on that day, at 3 o'clock, and they brought it back at 6 o'clock.

On Wednesday there was another hiring? Yes.

Commence what you have got to say from the Wednesday? I hired a boat to them on last Wednesday week, the 13th instant.

Did the two come back? Alfred Lester came to me at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

What passed between you? He came to me, and said that he wanted the same boat that he had on the previous day.

Having hired one on the day before? Yes, on the previous day.

Now, tell us your own story? The boat that he had hired on the day before was then on the beach. I said to him that it would be difficult to get it off. They, however, got a roller and took it off the beach.

In fact, you gave him the same boat? Yes, I gave him the same boat.

Did he say for what purpose he wanted it; where he was going? No, he did not; he did not say where he was going.

What was the size of the boat? It was a small sailing boat, 17 or 18 feet overall.

Was it a sailing boat? There were a jib and mainsail, and a pair of paddles in the boat; I also gave him a kellick; Lester went away in the boat.

You saw him start? I did.

Did you see in what direction? He went towards Hely's dock, up the harbour, towards the way of Pyrmont Bridge; my place is near the Gasworks.

He went south from your place? Yes, he did.

Go on with your narrative. I made a remark to him that he was going the wrong way.

How do you know that? I thought he was going down the harbour fishing.

He did not tell you what place they were going to. What was your reason for speaking as you did? I did so because people who hire my boats generally go down the harbour to fish.

What were the words you used to him? I said to him "You are going the wrong way."

What was his reply? He said that he was going to take his mate into the boat at some of the steamers' wharfs, or at "the wharf." He did not mention any particular wharf. He said "steamers' wharf."

That is all that passed between you? Yes, that was all at that time.

What condition was the boat in when it left your wharf—I mean as regards boat and sails? So far as I can remember everything was as usual. I don't often go into them.

Was it clean? It was in a fair ordinary state of cleanliness.

I do not know their state—I never saw any of them, so far as I can remember.

Were the sails all right? They were down. I do not remember how they were.

Did you see anything more of the men on that day? I did not.

Did not Lester say to you when he would return? No, he did not.

When did you next see him? On the next morning.

At what hour? Near on 7 o'clock.

Before or after 7 o'clock? I will not undertake to swear.

Well, about 7 o'clock? Yes; about that time.

He came back at that time with the boat? He did so.

Alone? No; there were two—Nichols came with him.

And returned the boat to you? They brought it alongside, and there were two other men ready to go away with it.

What state was the boat in when it came back? I can't tell you. There was a little water in it. She was no sooner in than she went away again.

Did you take the sails down? They were fastened.

How long had the other two men who went away in it possession of the boat? They came back on the same afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Had you any conversation with Lester or Nichols on the return of the boat? None whatever, with the exception of Nichols asking what he had to pay for the boat, and I said 4s.

Lester engaged it, and Nichols paid for it? Yes.

Did any conversation take place as to where they had been? No; nothing was said.

Did you examine the sails to see whether they were all right? It was not till yesterday morning that I looked at the sails.

Had the boat been used repeatedly since? It was used on Thursday by the two men who went fishing, and on Saturday, but not since; I observed yesterday, on looking, what looked like blood on the mainsail.

Has it been washed? It looks as if it had been washed.

Open the sail [then before the Court], and point out what you conceive to be blood. There is blood on the rope; there are also spots about the sail.

Are these the only portions that are stained? You can see the stains over the sail; they are of a dark yellow.

The Coroner said that he would have two portions of the sail cut out and sent to Mr. Charles Watt, for analysis.

Witness: I also saw blood on the after "leach" of the sail; there was on the main sheet the look of blood.

Is that all that you know? That is all.

Were these marks present when they took the sails away? Not to my knowledge.

You have no doubt as to the identity of the men? Not in the least.

You had previously hired boats to them? I in person had hired boats to them two times before.

You know where the men had been working? Yes, from what Lester told me. He said that they had been working at the meat preserving works. When he first came to me he said that he was working there.

By foreman of jury: Is the boat of such beam and capacity as to contain two men while throwing over a third with a heavy stone round his neck without danger of upsetting?

What is the beam of the boat? Five feet.

What is its depth? I think about two feet four inches, I cannot give the exact measurement.

Coroner: How many persons would the boat be able to carry? Six ordinary men. It depends upon their size. When it blows, I only care to see four in it. In an ordinary wind, two men could manage her very well.

By juryman: These stains on the sail might have come from some fishing excursion? From fish? Yes; I find stains of fish at times. I find stains that I often take no notice of.

No questions were asked by the prisoners.

William Holloway, examined by the Coroner:

Where do you live? In Gloucester-street.

What is your business? Publican.

Do you remember being at Buckley's wharf some morning last week? I went down there for ——

I did not ask you that. On what morning? Wednesday, the 13th.

Are you certain that it was on Wednesday? Yes.

In the morning? The evening or the afternoon. On Wednesday I went to engage a boat to go to the Heads.

Was you at the wharf on the Thursday morning? I was.

About what hour? About 7 o'clock.

Well, while you were there, did you notice any persons come up for a boat? They were waiting for a boat. A boat came up——

I did not ask you that—what persons came up; look round and see whether you recognise them? I recognise one of them—that man. [Pointing to George Nichols.]

You recognise him? I do.

At what hour did he come up? About 7 o'clock.

These were two men you are only able to recognise Nichols? Yes, I do so because I had a conversation with him.

About where he had been, or anything of that sort? Yes.

Where did he say he had been? I asked him if he had been down the harbour, and he said "Yes."

Did he say what he had been doing there? I asked him if he had been off the "reef" at Middle Head, and he said "Yes."

Did he say what he was doing? I asked him if he had killed any fish, and he said "Yes." Nichols then took a carpet-bag in his hand and left the boat.

By himself? The other man had left the boat before.

You went out with that boat at once? Yes, immediately after they left. I went away as soon as Mr. Buckley had brought me a fresh supply of water.

When did you leave? I left on the evening of the same day.

Were you sailing the boat on that day? I sailed part of the way early in the morning; but owing to there being no wind most of the way I had to pull.

Did you observe anything peculiar about the sails on that day? No. Nothing whatever.

Did Nichols tell you that he came from off Middle Head? Yes. He said from the "reef."

Did you see the boat approach, and the direction it came from? It came from Balmain.

That is not in the direction of Middle Head? It is not.

Did you ask him about the fish he had killed? I asked him where the fish were, and he said "I have left them there, where I live, at the Point," pointing in the direction of the Flagstaff.

Did you (witness) kill any fish on that day? No. Mr. Smith, my friend, was with me, and neither of us caught any fish.

By juryman: Before you started did you notice anything in the boat out of order? The main sheet was not "rove" through the block at the masthead, and was lying in the hold; we had to put it up; we were compelled to turn to the halyards.

The boat was clean? It was clean. There was water in it.

Was the water discoloured? I didn't notice.

By the Coroner: We bailed the boat out; the man Nichols said that it had been leaking.

James Hugh Palmer deposed that he was shorthand writer to the Legislative Assembly, and had had large experience, extending over nearly forty years, of handwritings; he had looked at the handwriting of exhibits M, S, X, Y, Z, and A2, and although there was a marked difference between exhibit M and the others, still there was such a general resemblance as left no doubt in his mind that they were all in the same handwriting; in all of them he perceived a similar curve; the final letters in almost every case had a decided curve in the upstrokes, especially remarked in the letter D; the letter C was also throughout the writing of these exhibits almost invariably without a loop where it was a capital; in exhibit "M" the writing was more stiff than in the other exhibits; in the letter "P" throughout the exhibits the curve of the letter was turned inwards; he would also draw attention to the fact that, in the flourish attached to the signatures "Thos. Y. Clarke" and "T. Y. Norton" there was a marked similarity; they were evidently from the same hand; in exhibit "Y" the word "engaging" occurred, and "engaged" in exhibit "Z" showed on comparison that they must also have been written by the same hand; being shown exhibit A1, sworn to be Nichols's handwriting, he had compared it with the other exhibits and had not the slightest doubt that it was the same handwriting as the other exhibits.

The Coroner said that at that stage of the proceedings he would adjourn the inquest till half-past 9 o'clock on Monday forenoon next. Mr. Watt by that time would be able to give the result of his examination of the portions of the mainsail and the rope that had been handed to him. As there would only be at most two or three other witnesses they would be able no doubt to conclude the case on that day (Monday).

The time at which the inquest was adjourned was a quarter-past 4 o'clock. The passage leading to it was densely packed with people. Men and boys were standing and sitting on the high wall which surrounds the District Court-buildings, and there was a large crowd outside waiting to see the prisoners brought out. They were not brought out till half an hour after the adjournment, when the men men were placed in cabs outside, a police-officer being on each side—a way being cleared by a strong posse of police for the vehicle to pass through. It is calculated that were from 800 to 1000 persons present at this time. When the cabs started, a rush was made as if to intercept them, but a way was kept clear for some distance by the police. A number of men ran after the vehicles crying out, "Pull him out," "Hang him,"—the prisoners being also hooted. They were got to prison in safety.

The attention of gentlemen furnishing, private buyers, brokers, and others, is called to Messrs. Bradley, Newton, and Lamb's sale of household furniture and effects, valuable oil paintings, choice engravings, pianofortes, bedroom furniture, camphorwood trunks, stoves, cameras, &c., is to take place at their Auction Rooms, Pitt-street, this day, commencing at 11 o'clock; at half-past 10 they will sell damaged matting and jugs.—Advt.

DEPARTURE.

March 18.—Escort, for Melbourne.

Vessels Bar-bound.—The steamers Susannah Cuthbert and Examiner, schooners Lookout, Storm King, Australia, Resolute, Thomas and Henry, Sir Isaac Newton, Amphitrite, reported in our last issue; and the Pioneer, for Melbourne, with 100,000 feet of cedar, ready for sea, were all still inside the Richmond bar on Friday last, there being a strong freshet still running out, but it was thought if the weather held fine for a day or two they might all get out.—C. and R. R. Examiner, March 19.

The Escort, after being detained at the Clarence Heads a month, was towed to sea by the Culloden, yesterday.—C. and R. R. Examiner, March 19.

Captain Ashton, of the Sybil, reports having fallen in with the schooner Settlers' Friend, from the Tweed River, bound to Sydney, on the 8th instant, in charge of the chief officer, the captain having died on the Tweed River. She was short of provisions and water, which were supplied by the Sybil, and the vessel, which was endeavouring to make for the Clarence River, then continued on her voyage.—C. and R. R. Examiner, March 19.

We have heard a great deal of late as to the advantages conferred upon the residents of the district by the extension of the telegraph line to the Clarence heads, but for all practicable purposes, as regards the shipping entering and leaving our ports, we are very little better off than before this large outlay was incurred. Where the fault lies, it is not our province to inquire; the one office blames the other, and we incline to the opinion that those most blamed are the least deserving of censure. We have only to deal with facts. The steamer Culloden, from Sydney, bound to the Richmond River, took the schooner Sybil from Melbourne, bound to the Clarence River, in tow at 2 p.m. on Sunday week, off the Clarence Heads, the weather being bad at the time, and endeavoured to bring her into port, but owing to the heavy sea on the bar, after having her in tow for four hours, had to cast her off, and the schooner had to again put to sea, but the steamer entered that evening, and anchored at the heads; but nothing is heard of her arrival at the Grafton Telegraph Office until Friday last. On the same day (Sunday, the 10th instant), as the Culloden entered, the Welcome Home crossed the bar outwards about 6 a.m. bound to the Richmond River; but the first we hear of her leaving this port is by our correspondent at Ballina announcing her arrival off the Richmond River Heads, several days after. These are not isolated cases; we might cite several instances of the kind. We think it is high time some steps were taken to remedy this state of things, as, if a vessel through stress of weather enters our port, and vessels leave without being reported, what guarantee have the public that a vessel if lost altogether, or in distress outside, requiring assistance will not be treated in a similar manner? and through such neglect valuable lives might be sacrificed.—C. and R. R. Examiner, March 19.

We speak the more confidently of this enterprise from the fact of our having had a conversation with the Messrs. SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1872.

The University of Sydney will hold its annual Celebration to-day. This institution has been in existence long enough to be fully appreciated by those who take an interest in education, whether of the highest or lowest class. It is intended for the completion of that training which, beginning in the common schools, advances through those of higher pretensions to that stage where the degree of proficiency is ascertained. Then the official seal of a learned body is affixed to the certificate which declares that the course of education is successfully finished. If we took account only of the students of the present day who avail themselves of the privileges of the University we might compare with some doubt the expense with the result. Our hesitation would not be removed if we even anticipated the increase of their number with the growth of population. But we have been accustomed to regard the University as at present passing through its infancy when it requires to be sustained, not merely for what it is, but for what it may become.

The existence of a University, establishing an elevated standard, has in various ways improved the agency and means by which a large proportion of the people have to be satisfied; and in this respect it has probably repaid its cost.

In the United Kingdom there have existed for many years several Universities of more or less repute. Degrees have been granted upon various conditions, and have represented literary and scientific education. But they have been very differently valued in the learned world. The changes of late years have altered their comparative appreciation, according to the fame of the professors, the strictness of the discipline, the extent of the curriculum, and the severity of the examination.

A feeling of dissatisfaction has, however, been awakened in those who take great interest in educational systems. A desire has been strongly expressed to make two great changes — one to grant degrees for proficiency in a smaller number of subjects, and the other to form a grand University for each nation. It is proposed, by the concurrence of scholars of every class and sect, pronounced on the attainments of the students, to affix a more uniform value to the degrees granted. It has been indeed objected that the competition of Universities is as useful to the cause of learning as the rivalry of students, and that the division of educational interests increases the sense of responsibility in those who are answerable for the qualifications of the candidates whom they distinguish. These are arguments which may be always used for separation or for union. There are, however, strong motives for combination where a public stamp is given to be received everywhere as a sign of proficiency, and its difficulty is greatly lessened in the facilities for intercourse by which distance is contracted for all the purposes of life. Some records have come down to the present day describing the pilgrimages of scholars to the places of learning. They required time and labour sufficient to carry men in the present day half round the world. This facility of intercourse has in every form increased the tendency to united effort; and with the influence of the Press has made a thousand things not only possible, but desirable, which were a century ago utterly inconceivable. The very notion of a University seems to imply that united action is desirable to give value to any testimonial which is to be thereafter undisputed, and to receive universal acceptance.

When degrees were first granted in Sydney, they were of little account beyond it. It was supposed that the terms were comparatively easy, and that social influences had their weight. The Royal Charter of course made Sydney degrees more desirable; but there is some danger both of too much rigour and too much laxity when the granting of degrees depends in part upon the idosyncrasy of a small body. Probably suspicion has ceased; but the union of representatives of various colonies in one University, and having power to confer degrees upon students from them all, would most certainly give them a higher value, and there would be still the rivalry of professors to produce the largest number of successful candidates for honours. Upon such an arrangement the present confusion in the public mind as to the true nature of a University might be removed.

A discussion of equal importance has largely occupied the attention of the learned world. Many have maintained that graduation should be admitted not on easier terms, but on those more suited to the wants of the age. The Principal of the University of Edinburgh, Sir Alexander Grant, is an advocate for this course. While certain things would be required of all the students to entitle them to a degree, they would have the choice in some instances whether they would pursue them at all, or whether they would select them for a decisive examination. The plan of this eminent scholar is to give degrees for science or for literature, and to cease to require a knowledge of Greek, in which many spend years without profit. He would, however, retain the Latin language as an essential branch of a learned education. Nor would he dispense with mathematics. By this means he supposes that a higher average proficiency would be attained, and many would seek degrees who are discouraged by the multitude of subjects, and especially by a conscious incapacity for average attainments in some of them.

It is not necessary to discuss the value both of Greek and Latin to men who look forward to a literary career. It is not necessary to show how utterly impossible it is to use language with precision unless its sources are explored, and the reasons thus ascertained for employing one term rather than another. Nor is it necessary to show those who have acquired the languages which have contributed to form the present English tongue that it is not an arid study, yielding nothing but mere words. No literary man pursues his work a single day without recurring many times to the origin of the language to avoid monstrous combinations and to be certain that he is saying exactly what he means. At the same time, life is too short for universal proficiency, and there is a danger that the student may become nothing else. If this change were to be made, there would still remain a sufficient class of "ripe" scholars, so called, to support the reputation of the schools of learning, whose tastes would lead them to its more perfect culture, and whose attainments will supply all that is required to uphold its dignity and fame.

We need not be alarmed if the general diffusion of knowledge should impart to scholarship the appearance of mediocrity. This is the inevitable condition of multitudes who have to deal in the common business of life. There will be a great increase of inferior scholars wherever education is common; but there will be a large circle better prepared to value pre-eminence, and consequently a stronger motive for its attainment. We do not know why men who have attained great distinction in any branch of learning should be less considered because they have no pretensions to universal knowledge. People are not less considered as lawyers, physicians, or soldiers because they have their separate spheres. Old George Stephenson had knowledge enough to have supported a degree, and his son, although a Master of Arts, had little need to pride himself on his knowledge of Greek literature. His fame will rest on the engineering miracles which he accomplished.

To have been successful in persuading the Stock Exchange to relax its hitherto irreversible rule, and to allow the quotation in its official list of a loan negotiated in the colony, is a feather in Mr. Lord's cap of which he may be justifiably proud. He has succeeded where others before him have tried the same thing and failed. Sir Charles Cowper writes as if he had had a great deal of trouble in the matter, and had succeeded only after much difficulty. It is possible therefore that the result is largely due to his pertinacity, and to the influence he was able to bring to bear; and success in this matter may be one of the first fruits of having an Agent-General in London who can be relied on for more steady and resolute effort than mere bankers or commercial agents, who have no special call to distress themselves. There was nothing more to be said in favour of the colony than had been said previously, and the different effect the last representation produced seems ascribable to some new force on the other side of the world.

It is to be regretted, however, that the earlier effort was not successful because that applied to the entire debt that had been negotiated colonially, while, if we understand the matter correctly, Mr. Lord's application applies only to the particular loan negotiated last year, and therefore still leaves a portion of our debt unrecognised by the Stock Exchange. When the correspondence is fully published we shall learn what are the grounds on which the concession was ultimately granted, and whether it applies to future loans contracted in the colony under specified regulations. If it does, it will be so far an additional stimulus to colonial negotiation, though it will not necessarily make it more profitable to borrow here than in London. The city correspondent of the Argus, repeating probably the gossip of London money circles, states that the Government would have made two to four per cent. more by the loan had it been issued in London. Considering the high premium debentures are now at, this is very probable, but at the same time this premium could not have been foreseen.

The Stock Exchange recognition of the loan, except so far as it gives an improved status to the colonial finance, does not immediately benefit the Government. The debentures have been parted with, and if the recognition improves their value, the holders get the benefit. This is a gain to them, because at the time the debentures were issued it was impossible to guarantee that such recognition would be secured. It had up to that time been obstinately refused. How far the price was depreciated by the knowledge of that fact it is impossible to say, but their value as remittances was undoubtedly affected by the uncertainty; and though Mr. Lord undertook to do his best to get them quoted, it was impossible to feel any confidence that he would succeed, as he was only going to try at what had been vainly tried before.

The high price of colonial debentures in London has induced Mr. Westgarth repeatedly to draw the attention of the Australian Governments to the expediency of lowering their rate of interest. This might be done very conveniently in conjunction with the consolidation of our debt, and it is very much to be regretted that our Cabinets are in such a state of flux, or are so wholly absorbed in purely local politics, as to attend to this matter. For years past, every colonial financier who has forecasted the future has seen the great inexpediency of allowing our terminable debt to mature at inconvenient intervals and in irregular quantities. It is also clear that anything like a systematic extinction of the debt is impossible under the existing arrangement, and that we effect new loans at some disadvantage when we combine them with old loans renewed. A consolidated debt of ten or twelve millions might, in the present state of the money market, be made to bear four and a half per cent. interest, and, if given a currency of fifty or a hundred years, could be extinguished by an annual payment uniform in amount and not oppressive. To carry out such a scheme would be a piece of prudent and statesmanlike finance. It would improve the reputation of the colony, and would win the admiration of those who are versed in matters of large finance. But we cannot say that it would improve the chance of the re-election of the Treasurer who carried it, or that it would secure him votes in preference to a rival candidate who promised a new bridge or a free bridge. It is doubtless the instinctive feeling of the superior efficacy of a reputation for localisms that leads our politicians to disregard questions of great national policy above all questions that do not seem immediately to press. A short life and a merry one is the motto of our Cabinets, and so far from wishing to work for the future, to facilitate the labours of their successors, and perhaps to manufacture glory for their rivals, each Ministry seems anxious to do as little as possible of what it cannot reap the whole credit. Some day, perhaps, we shall outgrow the parish-vestry spirit, and catch a little of the inspiration of large politics; but for this we either want better men, or men who can set a better example.

In addition to the consolidation of the English debt, that Treasurer will deserve well of the colony who establishes on a sound footing a local national debt. The objection that colonial capital needed for the fertilisation of local industry would be unhealthily absorbed, is idle in presence of the large accumulation of capital, and of the fact that money is lying at interest from 2 per cent. upwards, and that 5 per cent. is difficult to get on unimpeachable security. For every debt contracted in London we contract also a charge for the transmission of the annual interest, besides other expenses. A debt contracted in the colony is free from these extras, and every transaction in it adds something to the revenue.

Technical Military School.—A general meeting of gentlemen interested in the formation of a Technical Military School was held on Thursday evening, at the Victoria Barracks. The attendance was not so large as might perhaps under all circumstances have been expected, but those who were present manifested great interest and zeal in the enterprise. Captain Fitzsimons, Major of Brigade (N. S. W. Defence Force), having consented to preside, the business of the evening was opened. This for the most part consisted of the adoption by the meeting of that which had already been done by the gentlemen acting as a working committee, who had held several meetings and laboured very assiduously to promote the establishment of the school. Mr. Thomas Hodgson read the minutes of these previous meetings, &c., as also the heads of the course of instruction intended to be pursued in the school. This is divided into two sections or stages, which are again subdivided into different branches, representing various stages of study. They consist, in the first division, of linear geometry by aid of instruments, mechanical and machine drawing, details of architecture and construction, projection of shadows, linear and geometrical perspective, freehand outline from copies, ditto from objects, shading from flat examples, shading from solid forms. In the second division—technical studies, viz., military drawing, descriptive geometry, contouring, &c., military surveying and reconnaissance, field fortifications, and any other subjects which may be deemed requisite by the president and officers of the committee. Of this course the Colonel-commandant has formally approved. The sub-committee appointed for the purpose brought up a draft of rules for the governance of the school. These were submitted to the meeting seriatim, sundry amendments were suggested and adopted; and finally the rules as amended were carried. They were very brief, and numbered no more than twelve; it being considered advisable to start the school with machinery as little complicated as possible—the committee always having it in their power to add any fresh regulations that may be found necessary for the working of the establishment. The present rules provide simply for the appointment of officers (president, principal, and secretary) and committee; duties of such officers and committee; school to be open only to members of military (including Volunteers) forces of New South Wales; meetings for instruction to be held weekly at 7.30 p.m.; members to attend in undress uniform without side arms; subscription to be sixpence per week, payable monthly in advance; committee meetings to be held monthly; and principal to have power of suspending members for disorderly conduct, &c., subject to approval of committee. The following resolutions were then put and carried:—1. Upon the motion of Captain Wells, seconded by Lieutenant Strong,—"That Colonel Richardson be, ex officio, president of the school." 2. Proposed by Lieutenant Masters, seconded by Mr. Gole,—"That the following gentlemen, besides the president, principal, and secretary, form the committee, with power to add to their number, viz.:—Major Shepherd, Major Raymond, Major Goodlet, Major Richards, Major Jaques, Major Wilson, Major Clarke, Captain Fitzsimons (Brigade Major, N.S.W. Force), Captain Airey, Captain Wells, Captain Compton, Lieutenant Masters, Lieutenant Field, Lieutenant Golden, Lieutenant Dr. Paterson, Messrs. E. L. Montefiore, J. H. Thomas, and T. Gole." 3. Upon the proposition of Mr. E. L. Montefiore, seconded by Lieutenant Masters,—"That Mr. T. Hodgson (principal of Sydney School of Design), be appointed principal, with power to appoint assistant instructors, subject to the approval of committee." 4. Proposed by Lieutenant Masters, seconded by Mr. Thomas Hodgson,—"That Mr. P. L. Murray be appointed secretary." 5. Proposed by Mr. E. L. Montefiore, seconded by Mr. Gole,—"That the Commandant be requested to obtain the approval of the Government, so that the business of the school may be commenced with as little delay as possible." 6. Proposed by Captain Wells, seconded by Lieutenant Masters,—"That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the principal to the Commandant, for his information and transmission to the Government." A vote of thanks to the chairman terminated the proceedings. The school promises to be of great assistance to the Volunteer force, for whose improvement it is to be especially dedicated, and, if properly carried on, must tend very greatly to increase the knowledge of the men generally in the science of gunnery and field engineering. We should think that, upon a fair trial, it would become very popular.

Australian Preserved Meats in England.—The authorities of St. Augustine's prison have been trying the experiment of using Australian beef in the place of shins and necks of English beef, which is reported to be "a success both medically and financially." Mr. Tomlin, one of the magistrates, stated at the Court of General Sessions last week, that "a large proportion of the prisoners had gained in weight since the introduction of the Australian meat," and that "the cost was one-third less than that of ordinary butchers' meat." The South Eastern Gazette says:—"We should hope that the Visiting Justices of the Maidstone prison will follow the example set them by those of St. Augustine's. In the case of Maidstone, the saving of expense would be considerable, the number of prisoners being 453 per day, against 71 at St. Augustine's. The same rate of saving on the cost of the Maidstone prisoners as that effected at St. Augustine's would amount to something like 10s. or 15s. a day, or from £200 to £250 a year.

Bazaar.—The Bazaar in aid of the Primitive Methodist Church, held in the Temperance Hall, Newtown, closed on Thursday evening last, having been patronised by about four hundred visitors. A large variety of articles, including several very valuable cushions in plain and raised woolwork, statuettes, vases, &c., were exhibited and disposed of. The Bazaar was opened at 3 p.m., on Monday, the 18th instant, by Miss Pemell. The stalls were presided over by Mrs. Studds, Mrs. Edwards, Miss Mosely, Miss Cole, and Mrs. Kent, kindly assisted by several other ladies who took an interest in the affair. The receipts amount to £105. This, together with other sums raised during the past year in aid of the above Church, makes the total nearly £500.

The Circuit.—The Assizes at Wagga Wagga will commence on the 1st of April, before Mr. Justice Faucett. Four criminal cases are set down for trial—1. John M'Namara, assault; 2. Isabella O'Brien, murder; 3. George Dowsett, cattle stealing; 4. John Moran, bestiality. The sittings at Tamworth will also commence on the 1st of April, Mr. Justice Hargrave presiding. Only two cases are in the calendar—1. Annie Dettmer, perjury; 2. Francis B. Bennett, John Young, and Alfred Bushell, killing cattle. The Circuit Court at Armidale will commence on the 8th April, before Mr. Justice Hargrave, with six cases—1. Margaret Parker, murder; 2. Jane Phipps, larceny and receiving; 3. James Welfare, cattle stealing and receiving; 4. Charles Blake, forgery and uttering; 5. Horace Hodges, larceny; and 6. John M'Master, larceny. The Circuit Court at Yass will be also holden on the 8th April, before Mr. Justice Cheeke. There are five criminal cases:—1. Tse Keen, wounding with intent to murder; 2. Hugh Sing, wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm; 3. Lem Sung, wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm; 4. Michael Scalley, assault with intent to commit a rape. 5. George Exworth, attempt at murder. At the Albury Circuit Court, which will be holden on the 18th of April, before Mr. Justice Faucett, there is but one case as yet on the calendar—Michael Moloney, for larceny. The Circuit Court at Goulburn will be holden on the 15th of April, before Mr. Justice Cheeke. There are four cases in the calendar—1. John Corcoran, rape; 2. James Sprowl, murder; 3. Thomas Lawler and James Winterbank, larceny; 4. Thomas Heffernan, horse stealing. The sittings at Maitland will commence on the 18th of April, Mr. Justice Hargrave presiding. There are three criminal cases for trial—1. William Campbell and James Brennan, robbery, being armed; 2. Edward Cox, alias Brookes, bestiality; 3. Mary Wenton, murder. The Bathurst Assizes will also commence on the 18th of April, presiding Judge not yet named. There are twelve cases for trial:—1. Jack Aldey alias Goodall alias Growbad, rape; 2. John Colbron, rape; 3. John Howard, bestiality; 4. James Finch, rape; 5. James Collins, murder; 6. Billy Leister alias Billy Gar, assault with intent to commit a rape; 7. George Bailey, wounding with intent to murder; 8. Lachlan Thompson, wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm; 9. James Howard, murder; 10. Harry Percival, murder; 11. William Eccles, cattle-stealing; 12. Robert Smith, cattle-stealing. At the Deniliquin Circuit Court, which will be holden the 22nd of April, before Mr. Justice Faucett, there is but one criminal case, that of Jemmy, a Chinese, for bestiality. Some of the arrangements as to the Judges may be changed. A barrister will have to be commissioned as an Acting-Judge at one of the Assizes, probably at Bathurst. The prosecutions will be conducted by Mr. Isaacs at Bathurst, Mr. Wilkinson at Yass and Goulburn, Mr. W. J. Foster at Tamworth and Maitland, and Mr. Rogers at Armidale. It is probable, but not quite certain, that the Solicitor-General will prosecute at Wagga Wagga, Albury, and Deniliquin.

School of Arts, St. Leonards.—On Thursday evening, the inhabitants of the North Shore had an entertainment provided for them in the above fine hall, consisting of a very large collection of views representing the explorations of Livingstone in Africa; the expedition, under the command of Sir Leopold M'Clintock, to the Arctic regions in search of Sir John Franklin and his noble crew, who perished in the cause of science; concluding with a series of views upon the late Franco-Prussian war. The whole interspersed with a grand display of chromatropes and comicalities, and, judging from the continued outbursts of laughter, everyone seemed highly delighted with the amusement.

Masonic.—On Thursday evening last, the members of the District Grand Lodge (English Constitution), entertained their Grand Master, Brother A. T. Holroyd, at dinner, at Courvoisier's Hotel de France. Upwards of thirty sat down to a splendid repast, worthy of the establishment—the room, the table, the viands, and the wines eliciting the highest praise. The chair was occupied by Brother Ernest O. Smith, the Deputy Grand Master, on whose right sat the guest of the evening, Brother Holroyd; on the left of the chairman, Dr. Sedgwick, P. G. Master of the Scottish Constitution. Grace was said by the Grand Chaplain, the Rev. Brother Leigh. The Deputy proposed Brother Holroyd's health in an excellent speech, adverting at some length to the great success which had always characterised Brother Holroyd's ruling of the craft, during the past six years; and he concluded by expressing his hope that he might long continue to hold his present position amongst them. In responding, Mr. Holroyd cordially thanked the Grand Lodge for their magnificent entertainment of him, as also for their hearty goodwill and co-operation so readily and at all times extended to him. He was most proud of his position amongst them, and of their invariable kindness towards him; and so long as they continued to repose such confidence and trust in him, he would willingly serve them. He highly eulogized the Deputy, from whom he said, he had, at all times, derived the greatest and most important assistance and advice in matters affecting the craft. The party, well satisfied, dispersed at about 11 o'clock.

Board of Examiners. — Their Honors the Judges of the Supreme Court, have appointed the following legal gentlemen, viz., Messrs. Edwin Daintrey, Richard Holdsworth, George Evans, W. H. Pigott, and R. B. Smith, examiners for the present year of articled clerks seeking admission to practice as attorneys and solicitors.

Railway to Murrurundi.—The Minister for Works and the Engineer-in-chief for Railways have recently inspected the works on the Great Northern Railway, which we believe are far advanced towards completion. The station building at Murrurundi will not be quite finished by the 4th of the next month, but that will not prevent the opening of the line, which has been fixed for that day.

Railway Inquiry, Newcastle.—The Minister for Works (the Hon. James Byrnes) returned on Thursday night from Newcastle, where, among other matters, he has been conducting an inquiry into the conduct of some of the railway employés at the recent election for that city. We learn from Mr. Byrnes that the inquiry was not confined, as it has been reported, to partizanship in favour of the candidate who was a prominent member of the late Opposition, but had reference to any partisanship whatever. Neither is it true, as we are informed, that a large crowd assembled in the vicinity of the railway office where the inquiry was held, or that anything took place which could lead to the inference that a riot or any disorder would result. It is true that the representatives of the Press were not admitted; and the only persons present, besides the Minister, were either officers of the department or persons who were examined as witnesses. We are given to understand that one of the employés admitted that he carried a flag on the locomotive throughout the day of election; five or six others admitted that two flags were exhibited over the place where they were working, and that two others admitted that they had party colours fastened to their button-holes. We have not heard that the Minister has yet come to any determination upon the evidence taken.

The New Guinea Expedition.—The following telegram from Mr. Sheridan, Police Magistrate of Cardwell, to the Hon. A. H. Palmer, Premier of Queensland (who is at present in Sydney), has been handed to us:—"Mr. William Forster and the other survivors of the Maria are all recovering. They were transferred to the Governor Blackall on Sunday, after service, when special prayers were said at their request. Dr. Tate also went with the others in the Governor Blackall—every accommodation has been provided. The survivors speak in the highest terms of the blacks where their raft went on shore. They say they were fed and attended to like brothers. Captain Moresby also speaks in high terms of these aborigines. I have sent blankets and fishhooks for them." The telegram is dated March 20.

The Home Rule Question in Ireland.—A paragraph appeared in our telegram to the effect that certain prominent persons in Ireland opposed "home rule" as not required; on referring to our files we find that in recommending Mr. Dease to the electors of Kerry, The O'Donoghue and Bishop Moriarty boldly opposed the movement, expressing their conviction that there was no longer any ground for agitation. Both are bitterly denounced by Nationalist organs, and The O'Donoghue was called upon to resign. The O'Donoghue, M.P., in a letter declares himself opposed to home rule, and argues that there was longer any ground for the agitation. There is, he says, an essential difference between present times and the days of O'Connell. When O'Connell demanded repeal he believed it to be hopeless to expect a settlement of those questions which the advocates of home rule themselves admit have been or are about to be settled now; and after making every effort, after offering the English nation the alternative—justice or repeal—he raised the standard of repeal as the sole means of obtaining measures which he believed only an Irish Parliament would grant. O'Connell had specific and avowed purposes, but after months of agitation Mr. Butt's followers leave us, he says, in complete ignorance of what special evils they had in view, and base their operations on the spacious though wholly untenable position that Irishmen are not allowed to manage their own affairs. The O'Donoghue contends that the advantages held out by the advocates of Home Rule are vague and delusive. He denies that the Imperial Parliament has shown an indisposition to legislate for Ireland. He has found the English and Scotch members he sits with fast friends of Ireland, anxious to do all that earnest men can to efface the unhappy past. Personal experience convinces him that there can be no failure of justice to Ireland in the Imperial Parliament, and the first duty of an Irish patriot is to advise his countrymen to unite in the closest bonds with people who have all the disposition and all the power to make friendship invaluable.

The Sydney Rowing Club.—The quarterly regatta, to take place this afternoon, promises to be one of the best held since the formation of the club. Two or three of the crack pullers have not entered, and the races are thus rendered more interesting, as the crews—being more equally matched—will have closer contests. Spectators will be able to view the races from the enclosure at Fort Macquarie, to which admission will be by ticket. The first race starts at 3 p.m.

Clarence Election.—Since our last issue, says the Clarence and Richmond Examiner, only one other return has been received, that of Tabulam, at which place the polling was taken on Monday last—the numbers being for Mr. T. Bawden, 8; Mr. R. C. Madgwick, 1; giving a majority for Bawden of 473 over his opponent. The poll at Coraki will be taken this day (Tuesday), but on the Tweed no date has yet been fixed, as the ballot papers were on Friday last still lying at the post-office, Casino, the mailman having returned owing to the flooded state of the country.

Marriages a Century Ago.—Marriages a hundred years ago in England are described in an old paper thus: "Married in June, 1760, Mr. William Donkin, a considerable farmer, of Great Tosson, near Rothbury, in the county of Cumberland, to Miss Eleanor Shotten, an agreeable young woman, of the same place. The entertainment on this occasion was very grand, there being no less than 120 quarters of lamb, 44 quarters of veal, 20 quarters of mutton, and a great quantity of beef; 12 hams, with a suitable number of chickens, &c., which was concluded with eight half-ankers of brandy made into punch; 12 dozen of cider, a great many gallons of wine, and 90 bushels of malt made into beer. The company consisted of 550 ladies and gentlemen, who concluded with the music of 25 fiddlers and pipers, and the whole was concluded with the utmost order and unanimity."

The 18-ton Guns.—The following is a description of the 18-ton guns, twelve of which are now on the way to this colony. Each gun weighs 18 tons 2 qrs. 4 lbs. It has a breech preponderance of 1 cwt. 2 qrs. 10 lbs. Its calibre is exactly 10 inches; length 15 feet 4 inches over all, length of bore 145.75 inches. The rifling consists of seven grooves of 1.5 inches wide, and 0.22 inches deep—the spiral being one turn in 100 calibres, increasing to 1 turn in 40 calibres at the muzzle. It carries a Palliser shot 400 lbs. in weight (1.25 diameter ogival head), and a shell 1.5 in diameter of 390 lbs. empty. It is worked by a detachment of one non-commissioned officer and 14 gunners—the charge used about 60 lbs. of powder.

Herr Carl Schmitt's Concert.—This gentleman, who is so well known as the conductor of the Sydney Choral Society, to whose zeal and energy the society is much indebted for the popularity it has attained, will give a concert on the 8th April next, which promises to be one of unusual attraction. Herr Schmitt intends to include in the programme selections from a new opera written by himself, now being printed in London.

The American Excelsior Minstrels.—This troupe of minstrels gave another entertainment last evening, in the hall of the School of Arts. The audience was somewhat limited. The programme, diversified by song, instrumental music, and dancing, was for the most part rendered to the satisfaction of those present, some of the performances being encored and others warmly applauded. The pieces done in character afforded much amusement. The entertainment closed with a new farce, in which the various members of the company took part. A matinée is announced for to-day.

The Circus.—The managers have added to their previously complete troupe by the engagement of two new stars—Madame Zimla and Mr. G. Loyal. The latter is well known as a clever gymnast, who has made considerable reputation both here and in Victoria. Last night's performance was the benefit of "Little Joey," who promises to rival his father, the celebrated "Young Raphael" of former days, when Rowe's Circus was in the zenith of its fame. Signor Raphael is still a brilliant and daring equestrian, and his performances are nightly rewarded by enthusiastic applause. Madame Zimla and Mr. Loyal are announced to appear to-night.

The Victoria Theatre.—On last Saturday evening a new sensation drama "Poul-a-Dhoil," was produced for the first time in Sydney, and with Mr. J. J. Welsh, Miss Oliver, and Mr. Poole commenced their engagements. There were also several minor additions to the company which has thus been brought up to a moderate strength, and enabled the manager to cast the piece very fairly. The principal character Ony was supported by Miss Oliver, who proved that she has the requisites for pourtraying Irish comic parts with success, and was heartily applauded throughout the various scenes besides being called before the curtain at the close of every act. Mr. Welsh as Merry, and Mr. Poole as O'Clancy gave finished representations, and Messrs. Hasker, Rainford, Miss Montague, and Miss Melville contributed to make the piece a success. The scenery was good, and in all respects the drama went smoothly. Mr. Andrews appeared in the "Artful Dodge," and amused the audience immensely. The programme has been the same throughout the week, except on Wednesday evening, when a bespeak performance, given by the playgoers of Sydney as a farewell compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Darrell, took place. On this occasion several members of the Press and other amateurs gave their services, and played "Money," with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell, Miss Holt, and Miss Melville. Taken as a whole, it was a more than average performance, some of the amateurs being well up in their parts, and the professional element excellent. When the curtain fell there was a recall, and soon after Mr. G. Walsh came forward and presented a very flattering address to Mr. and Mrs. Darrell. Of the latter, it spoke in the highest terms as a lady, who through a lengthened connection with the Australian stage had maintained the character of the profession in public and private life; and was also eulogistic of her husband's efforts, though during a less extended period. Mr. Darrell returned thanks in suitable terms. "Nan the Good for Nothing" was given as the afterpiece, Miss Oliver, Messrs. Andrews, Welsh, Poole, and Rainford, playing the principal parts, and giving satisfaction to a well filled house. A new play, entitled "Fuchred," by a local author, is in preparation, and in it Miss Carey and Mr. Bartlett late of the Prince of Wales company, will appear. These additions must add materially to the popularity of the house.

SYDNEY MEAT PRESERVING COMPANY.

A special general meeting of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company was held yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce, in terms of the 63rd clause of the deed of settlement, to consider the propriety of endeavouring to arrange with an English Company formed to carry out the same object as the Sydney Meat Preserving Company, so that the combined resources of both companies may be available for the end in view. Most of the principal shareholders were present. Mr. John Lackey, M.L.A., was called to the chair.

The Chairman proceeded to explain the objects for which the meeting had been called. He stated that the directors of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company having received intimation that an English firm, call the London Food Company, had decided upon commencing operations in the colony, their object being to purchase or erect an establishment for the preparation of beef and mutton upon the principle known as Jones's Patent, they, the directors, had opened up negociations with the London firm with a view to the sale, wholly or partially, of the lands, buildings, and plant generally, situate at Hacking Creek, on the Parramatta Road. He then read the letter stating the terms upon which the directors, on the part of the company, offered to dispose of the premises, &c., subject of course to the approval of the shareholders. [The document will be found in extenso in our advertising columns.] He stated also that the works were now practically finished, as they would be complete in every way in a few days; indeed the manager had accepted an offer that morning from a large firm to boil a quantity of their fat stock, and other lots were coming in; therefore it was very probable that the company would be kept employed in this way. The company was started, however, for another purpose chiefly, viz., the preservation of meat on the Appert process, and from present indications it seems very unlikely that the directors would have sufficient capital at their disposal when the works, buildings, and plant would be paid for, to carry out these operations as originally intended. The directors thought it would be advisable, if they could get such a price as would leave a fair profit, to sell their plant to the London company, either absolutely or partially, and with that view the present meeting had been called, that the shareholders might have an opportunity of expressing their concurrence or otherwise in the action proposed to be taken by the directors. Counsel's opinion had been taken as to the power of sale. From this it was shown that the property of the company could not be sold except by the general concurrence of the shareholders. He regretted very much that the lethargy of stockholders and graziers in the colony was so great, and that their apathy in this matter had necessitated the sale of the company's works, the plant and arrangements being considered by competent judges to be one of the most complete in the colonies. Still, out of a capital of £25,000, about half only had been paid up, and the land, buildings, plant, &c., having absorbed the whole of this, with the exception of about a thousand pounds, it would be altogether impossible to begin on anything like an adequate scale with so small an amount. The home newspapers were continually alluding to the great and increasing demand, for the Australian preserved meats in England and on the continent; and it was very desirable that the demand having grown up, should not be allowed to fall off again, from want of supply. The directors, having taken this step, are now anxious to hear the views of the shareholders, so that in case of any objecting to the course proposed, communication might be forwarded by the outgoing mail to that effect.

After some discussion of a conversational character, it was proposed by Mr. J. B. Watt, and seconded by Mr. Alexander M'Donald,—"1. That the Board of Directors be authorized to sell all the lands, tenements, hereditaments, and other property belonging to the Sydney Meat Preserving Company to the Food Preserving Company for the sum of £15,000; the same to be paid in the following manner, that is to say: £10,000 in cash, and £5000 in shares of the said Food Preserving Company. 2. That the said sum of £10,000 shall, after answering all existing claims on the Meat Preserving Company, be paid to, and be distributed amongst, the shareholders of the said company and their respective executors and administrators, in the proportion in which they shall respectively be entitled to, and interested in, the capital, property, and effects of the said Sydney Meat Preserving Company. 3. That the said shares of the said Food Preserving Company taken in payment of the said sum of £5000 shall be distributed amongst such of the shareholders of the said Sydney Meat Preserving Co. as may desire to take the same in the proportions in which they shall be respectively entitled to and interested in the capital, property, and effects of the said Sydney Meat Preserving Co."

Mr. J. B. Watt then moved, and Mr. R. L. Jenkins seconded the fourth resolution, namely,—"That if it be found necessary, the Board of Directors be empowered to apply to the Legislature for an Act to enable them to carry into effect the preceding resolutions."

All the foregoing resolutions were unanimously agreed to.

On the motion of the Hon. S. D. Gordon, M.L.C., the chair was vacated by Mr. Lackey, and taken by Mr. Henry Mort, and the thanks of the shareholders were voted to the chairman and the directors of the company, for the energetic and efficient manner in which they had conducted the business of the company.

THE ANCHOR AND THE DOLPHIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—It must be a relief to your readers to learn, from "An Elector's" last letter in your issue of March 21, that his "fancy is smitten by that Japanese proverb about the anchor teaching the dolphin to swim," and that in this fine state of mind, he not only propounds forthwith another political classification, accepting for himself the character of anchor, freely ascribed to him by your playful correspondent, W. B. D., and reducing his opponents to the condition of dolphins, but unexpectedly breaks out into a most appropriate vein of facetiousness and imagination, the facetiousness being of a very ponderous sort, while the imagination sinks into bathic depths unfathomable by common understandings. As every one knows, when your anchor gets to the bottom of anything, however muddy and slimy, he has a fashion of holding on, and imbedding himself deeper and deeper into the mire. But perhaps his delphine disciples have some reason to complain of hard treatment. What else indeed could they expect from an anchor? He floats his dolphins, with a view, I presume, to their instruction in the art of swimming, under very extraordinary circumstances, calculated to produce in the ordinary dolphin mind such a degree—so to speak—of ultramarine perplexity and confusion, as perhaps only an anchor can unravel. Our first introduction to the dolphins is under "a strong light suddenly flashed in upon the dark room of assembled conspirators" among whom our unhappy dolphins are of course included. Where "the dark room" in question is situated, is not clearly shown, but it is probably somewhere about the Victoria barracks, or the fortifications, since it appears that some of our dolphins have a "military mind," and are liable to be disturbed by "a bombshell thrown in upon the plans of the fortifiers of the city." Among our dolphins moreover are "three desperate athletes," who "club in hand, have rushed at"—"An Elector"—"already." There is some obscurity about the sort of club meant, but, as the "three desperate athletes"—the "Dolphins of our political life"—and "the small party of exquisites who are to sit in judgment on the judgment of the electors, and provide us with a Government"—are obviously classified by "An Elector" in the same category, it is safe to conjecture that the club of the "three desperate athletes," and the "Dolphin Club" mentioned as "established" by the dolphins, and put into capital letters accordingly, are one and the same thing. There is, however, considerable difficulty to any other expositor than "An Elector," or an anchor, in reconciling all these various epithets and functions with the enumeration of only "three desperate athletes," and the subsequent statements, that "there are not many more of them" as well as about the "small party of exquisites." But the probability is, that our anchor is only exercising his ponderous facetiousness at our expense, and that from the profound depths of his "rusty" consciousness, and through many intervening cubic feet of opaque medium, he sees numbers of persons and things in his grand inscrutable way, which he is too much of an anchor to commit himself by classifying, or enumerating, in any distinct form.

Our anchor becomes amiably communicative and scientific about "the family of the dolphin." And the world is now indebted to him for a new fact in natural history, namely, that dolphins inhabit or "have been drawn from the waters of the Murrumbidgee, the Parramatta River, and the shores of Port Jackson."

The substance of our anchor's natatorial prolusions apparently amounts to this, that all political dolphins, whether in the character of "desperate athletes," or "fortifiers of the city," or "exquisites," though "very ornamental creatures round the ship of State" must not presume, without the anchor's leave, to "sit in judgment on the judgment of the electors," or attempt to "provide us with a Government," or interfere in any way with questions of morals or politics. All this is to be left to "a good anchor," which, "though always of the same rusty colour, may be of more value to the ship's safety." Now the dolphins, as described by our anchor, seem to be a bad lot, and may be very unsafe guides for "the ship of State." But an anchor can hardly be substituted for a pilot. And even as regards "the ship's safety," what if your anchor be so eaten up with rust as to break at the first tug, or so foul, and so deeply imbedded in mud and dirt, that it cannot possibly be extricated or cleansed therefrom? In that case would not the anchor have to be got rid of, and left "alone in its glory," amid the oceanic deposits and accumulated debris by which anchors are generally surrounded, to be hereafter perhaps disentombed as a fossil anchor, for the advancement of future science, and the wonder of succeeding generations?

Interruptions to Overland Telegraph Construction.—A correspondent gives the South Australian Advertiser some particulars regarding the overland telegraph. He thinks the blacks will prove very troublesome, and a great hindrance to the working of the line. On section E they had smashed several insulators, and untied the wire from others and carried them off whole. The natives, it is thought, find the pieces of insulator useful in sharpening their weapons; and if so, there will be no end to the destruction till vigorous measures are taken against the depredators.

COMMERCIAL.

PRODUCE CIRCULARS.

Mort and Co.—Wool: The effect of the recent home advance was very apparent at our sale on Wednesday, when we succeeded in disposing of some 750 bales at very much improved prices. Our sales included a considerable quantity of greasy wool withdrawn at previous sales. Sheepskins were in active demand, and realised the prices as annexed. Quotations: Medium to well grown 6½d to 8½d, pelts 2d to 3½d per lb. Hides were not quite so firm this morning, and several lines were withdrawn. Our sales included close on 800 hides. Tallow: As shippers did not appear disposed to give late rates, the bulk of that offered to-day was held over. Small parcels of mutton sold readily, but soap tallow was not quite so firm. Leather: Home advices have strengthened prices for sole to the extent of ½d to ¾d per lb. Kip of good quality is in short supply, and realises long figures. We sold a small parcel this week at 23½d per lb. Harness is also inquired for at better figures. STOCK AND STATION CIRCULARS.

J. Sullivan.—Stations of all kinds inquired for, and the demand on the increase. I have some choice cattle and sheep stations in my hands for sale, and have placed two large cattle properties under offer, which are now being inspected. I have sold the Narramine stations, in the Wellington and Bligh districts, with all cattle and belongings, without muster, for the lump sum of £12,200 cash—Mr. John Hughes, purchaser. Fat Cattle: Market well supplied; large numbers having arrived and at hand has caused a decline in prices, and only those prime sold at top rates. Middling quality dull of sale. I quote best pens of picked bullocks, £6 10s to £7; best pens of picked cows, £5 10s to £6; all other descriptions accordingly. My sales have been—58 (Forrester's), average £5 17s; 113 (Bowman, Brothers) mixed sexes, £5 3s 6d. I have some large transactions for future delivery. Fat Sheep: A heavy supply forward, and the wholesale buyers having a great many on hand, has caused prices to be easier on all descriptions. I can only quote 54-lb. wethers worth 9s 6d to 10s, all others in proportion.—March 22.

G. M. Pitt.—Fat Cattle: We have again had a very heavy supply in, and the different lots offered through the yards were with difficulty got rid of. Prices, however, on the whole were satisfactory, and if we could only get our Meat Preserving Company to commence operations, we should soon see a change for the better. The works are now nearly completed, and the manager expects to make a start the beginning of next month. The great difficulty seems to be in getting off the shares, only about one-half up to the present time having been subscribed for. If the squatters would now come forward and take up the remainder, they would start on a firm basis, and, no doubt, be a grand success. I cannot quote best beef worth over 16s per 100 lbs. My sales have been 200 mixed (E. Vickery's) at £3 10s; 81 bullocks (Capel's) at £5 15s; 184 equal sexes (Durham's) bullocks £5 11s, cows £4 6s; 40 (Thomas Holt's) at £6 9s 5d; 124 mixed (Hall's) at £5 2s 10d; 188 mixed, (John Town's) at £4 11s 8d. Fat Sheep: The supply to hand has been fully equal to requirements, and a general dulness has pervaded the sales. Prime wethers are inquired after, but buyers are not inclined to give the high prices that have been ruling. In order to effect sales a reduction of about 6d a head has to be submitted to. The trade are heavy holders, and I see no prospect of an improvement for some time. I quote 56-lb. wethers worth 10s. My sales have been—1530 wethers (M'Donald, Smith, and Co.'s) at 9s 6d, 1600 (E. Vickery's) at 9s.—March 22.

Harrison, Jones, and Devlin.—Stations: We have nothing special to remark under this head, except that the inclination to accept such properties as an investment seems to be increasing weekly. We have a sheep station in Queensland now being inspected with a view to its purchase. Fat Cattle: The market has again been fully supplied, notwithstanding which prices have been very well maintained for all good quality, the averages having been: 198 head at £5 11s; 112 head at £5 5s; 188 head at £4 11s 8d; 124 head at £5 2s 9d; 130 head at £5 11s; 40 head at £6 8s. Fat Sheep: The market has been inundated with sheep and the trade being very large, holders' prices have given way fully 1s per head. We quote 50-lb. wethers at 9s, others in proportion. We sold—1188 wethers (W. Allison), 9s to 9s 9d; 40 lambs (A. Gibson), 6s 9d to 11s 6d; 40 ditto (J. Payten), 8s 3d to 11s 6d. Store Cattle: The demand continues unabated, and all suitable lots of cattle sell freely at full rates. We have two large mobs now near Bourke, en route to the south. Quotations: Bullocks, good (south), £4 10s to £5; mixed sexes (ditto), £3 10s to £4 5s; bullocks (North), £3 to £3 10s; mixed sexes (ditto), £2 10s to £3. Store Sheep: We have a very extended inquiry for all classes of sheep, but find much difficulty in supplying the requirements of buyers, store sheep being very scarce, excepting a few large lots, for which we want high prices. Wethers, 5s 6d to 7s 6d; maiden ewes, 6s to 7s; breeding ewes, 5s 6d to 6s.—March 22.

Butler and Inglis.—Fat Cattle: The supply to hand this week was chiefly of good quality, and the market was firm, with an upward tendency. Quotations—Fat bullocks, £6 to £7 11s for first quality, others in proportion; cows, £4 5s to £5 10s. Sheep: The number offered this week was hardly equal to requirements, and there was a slight advance upon last week's rates. Quotations—Fat wethers, best, 9s 6d to 11s; ewes, 7s to 7s 6d. Milch Cows: The market was very bare this week, and all to hand sold at satisfactory figures. For really first-class cows high prices could be obtained. Quotations—£4 17s 6d to £8 10s. Calves: Supply and quality about equal to the average. Quotations—15s 6d to 35s 6d. Lambs: There is but little change from last week's report. We sold 20 (A. Davy) from 7s 3d to 9s, 20 (W. Dennis) 7s to 13s 6d. Pigs: A moderate number forward. Quotations—13s 6d to 45s.—March 22.

George Kiss.—Some fresh horses arrived from Kiama this week, and a few of them sold at prices ranging from £12 to £17 10s; a number of others were also disposed of but the prices were lower. A lot of horses changed hands privately, but they were for shipment, and went at from £11 10s to £15.—March 22.

A considerable amount of business was done in the Stock and Share market to-day. Inquiry for bank stock has been well supported, and a few debentures offered were taken readily at full figures. City Bank changed hands at 9, and Joint Stock at 11. Australasian Steam steady at 13½. United Insurance stock is meeting more attention, and sales were made at 6d. to 9d. advance on yesterday's quotation. Sydney remain firm at 3. The principal changes in mining have been a decline in Mount Perry and Peak Downs Copper. The former changed hands at 35s., and the latter at 5. Drummond realised 3s. 6d. to 3s. 9d. Elsmore and Caledonian Tin brought late rates, and transactions in Waratah Coal were reported at 7. Bismark Gold sold at 65, and Pactolus fully paid up at 26s. In debentures, we note business in New South Wales terminables at 103, and Australasian Steam six per cents. at a similar figure.

Messrs. Richardson and Wrench sold by auction, to-day, an allotment of land, Botany Road, near Parramatta-street, £9 10s. per foot—Mr. S. Cornwall, purchaser; wooden house, Holt-street, Strawberry Hill, £325—Mr. T. O. Green, purchaser; Mountjoy House, and about 9 acres of ground, Canterbury Estate, Ashfield, £1800—Mr. F. Perks, purchaser; and 1280 acres unimproved land, near Cowra, for £1380—Mr. George Campbell, purchaser.

There was less demand for tallow at to-day's sales, and several shipping lots were withdrawn for better prices than buyers were disposed to give. The supply of hides was not large, so that the auctioneers had no difficulty in clearing their catalogues at prices equal to those ruling last week. Annexed are particulars of sale:—

The import markets close with increased firmness. There is an active inquiry for all descriptions of iron, and sales of galvanized have been made at very full rates. Holders of cornsacks have advanced their prices, and extreme rates are asked for soda crystals. The cargo of teas just arrived per Mary Blair was offered at auction, this morning, by Messrs. Stubbs and Co. There was a fair attendance of the trade, very little disposition to operate, and after a small portion was quitted at low rates the balance was passed for private sale. The usual monthly review of the markets will appear in our mail summary on Monday.

The Argus of Tuesday reports of the Melbourne markets:—

In the import markets trade is assuming a more active and buoyant appearance; a very brisk inquiry for goods has been experienced throughout the day, though we are yet unable to report much actual business. Breadstuffs are dull, and it is with difficulty that any sales at all can be effected. Flour has been got rid of at £12 12s 6d, and the millers are now generally offering town manufactured at £12 15s. Nor can we report much doing in wheat; best quality is still quoted at up to 5s 5d. We hear of good wheat grown in the western district, about 2000 bushels, having been placed at 5s 5d. Oats are quiet, buyers being exceedingly backward; we observe, however, that some 3000 bags, ex St. Kilda, will be submitted to competition for sale to-morrow forenoon. Maize is treated with the utmost neglect, and our quotation of 3s 3d to 3s 6d is quite nominal. Sugars are very firm, holders requiring higher rates, and being very sanguine on this score do not care to conciliate buyers. The Chateaubriand, just arrived from Mauritius, brings dates to 6th February. All the vessels previously reported as loading for the colonies had left with the exception of the Ophir, which was to take her departure on the 8th February for Geelong. The market was very firm, but no actual change in prices had occurred though holders were fully in the expectation of a further rise. There was no inquiry for freight for the colonies.

To-morrow forenoon the cargo of Java white crystals per Alma, about 6500 bags, besides 1500 bags Mauritius sorts, will be offered by auction. About 2000 bags rice will at the same time be disposed of. Sales of Devoe's kerosene oil continue to be reported at 1s 9½d. A shipment of galvanized iron, plain, has been sold to arrive at the extreme figure of £36 10s. Hoop iron is quoted at £14 to £15, and we learn of the quittance of a shipment at our quotations. In teas, for which there is a moderate inquiry, we note sales privately at 16d to 18d for good to medium congous. At the sale of bonded goods in Masterton's estate this forenoon, congous realized from 10½d to 10¾d, and 11¾d to 1s 6¾d for dusty and broken leaf to good medium in chests and halves, while boxes brought 1s 5d to 1s 7d. At same time, Hennessy's pale brandy sold at 6s 4½d, Martell's dark at 6s 7½d, and Associated Vineyard at 4s 10½d. Rum brought 3s 9d to 5s for good to best brands, and JDKZ geneva sold at 11s 9d.

MINING.

The share list of the Bald Hill Mining Company has closed, and shares have been allotted by the provisional directors. All applicants for shares in the company as originally projected, and those for any number under 100, received the full number. The remainder were divided pro rata, and gave about 70 per cent. on the number applied for.

The following telegram from Messrs. Buyers and Holterman was received yesterday:—"Finished crushing; 4 tons yielded 1113 oz., and 120 tons 476 oz. The quicksilver not yet retorted, but expected to give 12 oz. more. This is the work of sixteen men for ten weeks. Prospects richer than ever. Vein spoken of as number one in prospectus will exceed anything yet opened. It is the same vein as that known as Krohman's now, and is exceedly rich. None of it yet crushed."

At a meeting of the Sydney shareholders of the Mary River Gold Company, held on Thursday, Messrs. Zollner, Muller, and Laing were elected provisional directors, to act with Mr. Kinloch; Messrs. Rolin and Salter were appointed solicitors, and the formation of the company was completed. The chairman exhibited a telegram received by him from the acting-secretary in Victoria, stating that the directors there would agree to anything Mr. Norton wished. Operations are to be commenced at once, the number of shares already applied for being considered sufficient for that purpose.

The Deputy Master of the Sydney Mint has certified that a sample of tin ore from the Great Northern Company's ground, on the Mitchell River, yielded 71.48 per cent. of tin, and 1 oz. 8 dwts. 18 grs. of gold per ton. The property consists of 260 acres, taken up by Messrs. Bagot, Clarke, and others, and is to be worked by a company with a nominal capital of £40,000, shares of which—10,000—have been offered to the public, with the definite assurance that dividends will be paid on the nominal value of their shares irrespective of the amount called up.

Messrs. Barton and Molhado report having received the following telegrams of the daily yields of the Band and Albion Consols:—"Thursday, 233 ounces; Friday, 153 ounces. Mine looking well; No. 2 expect to get good washdirt in a few weeks."

A. MOORE AND CO.—At their Mart, at 11, Clothing, Drapery, Tweeds, Jewellery, Watches, &c.

Sugar from the Macleay.—Some samples of sugar, grown by Mr. W. Poole on the Macleay River, have been on view at Greville's Commercial Rooms, George street, and will remain there for a day or two longer. The two samples comprise white and yellow counter sugars. The quality of both is excellent, although the yellow would be all the better if it was a little more "grainy" in appearance. The plantation and works of Mr. Poole are situated at Hampden Hall, Kempsey. He manufactured a considerable quantity of sugar during the past season; and the yellow counter, a sample of which is shown, sold at £35 per ton.

Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil.—Its unequalled efficacy in diseases of the chest is thus described by Dr. Waudby, Physician to the Hereford Infirmary: "I can take Dr. de Jongh's oil without any difficulty or dislike, and with as little inconvenience as water alone. Not only in my own case, but in many others I have seen, it has caused an improvement of chest symptoms, and an increase of weight, so soon and so lastingly, as to be quite remarkable. I believe Dr. de Jongh's oil to be the most valuable remedy we possess for chronic and constitutional disease." Sold only in capsuled imperial half-pints, pints, and quarts, by all chemists, druggists, and storekeepers. Sole Consignees, Ansar, Harford, and Co., 77, Strand, London.

Maravilla Cocoa.—No breakfast table is complete without this delicious beverage.—The Globe says, "Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs. Taylor, Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of 'Maravilla' Cocoa. Adopting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition distinguish the Maravilla cocoa above all others. For homœopaths and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage." Sold in packets only by all grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor, Brothers' Original Homœopathic Cocoa and Soluble Chocolate, Steam Mills, Brick-lane, London. Export, Chicory Mills, Bruges, Belgium.—Adv.

"Berkeley, Sept. 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking 'Norton's Camomile Pills.' I applied to your agent, Mr. Bell, Berkeley, for the above-named Pills, for wind in the stomach, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without deriving any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity for the benefit of those who may thus be afflicted. I am, Sir, yours truly, Henry Allpass.—To the Proprietors of Norton's Camomile Pills."—Adv.

Will you allow us to inform the public through your columns that the statement is totally untrue, and must have been set on foot simply for some malicious purpose.
Yours most obediently,

The Establishment will be open Daily, from 5 o'clock in the Morning till 9 in the Evening; on SUNDAYS, from 6 to 10 o'clock a.m.
It (the Establishment) consists of two kinds of Bathrooms, namely:—
A. For Visitors who wish to avail themselves of Warm Baths, according to their own liking.
B. For Patients, who may place themselves under the Hydropathic treatment, and then receive such baths as are best suited to their different complaints and constitutions.
All various kinds of Diseases of an Acute or Chronic nature, viz., FEVERS, FEVER and AGUE, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, ALL VARIOUS SKIN DISEASES, &c., &c., most effectually and successfully treated and cured under the PURE HYDRIATRIC SYSTEM, WITHOUT THE ADMINISTRATION OF ANY MEDICINE WHATEVER.
The Manager of these Hydropathic Baths has gained his theoretical and partly practical knowledge in one of the best and most renowned Hydropathic establishments on the Continent of Europe, and has HAD SIX YEARS OF PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE IN THIS COLONY, having treated during this period, very successfully, all kinds of Diseases and Complaints, both internally and externally.
Numerous well-performed cures, and NOT ONE CASE WHICH EVER TURNED OUT FATAL (though many most dangerous cases were taken in hand), are the best convincing proof of the excellency and superiority of the hydratric system: therefore those doubting MAY COME AND SEE, and experience the beneficial result on their own selves, by using (if it is but for a week or fortnight only) the hydropathic baths, as recommended and administered in this establishment.
Hours of Consultation daily from 2 to 4 o'clock p.m.
To the poor, consultations given gratis.
OUT-DOOR PATIENTS ARE VISITED, and, if necessity requires, are also treated at their respective homes.

BILIOUS and Liver Complaints, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Loss of Appetite, Drowsiness, Giddiness, Spasms, and all Disorders of the Stomach and Bowels, are quickly removed by that well-known English remedy, FRAMPTON'S PILL OF HEALTH.
They unite the recommendation of a mild operation with the most successful effect; and where an aperient is required nothing can be better adapted.
Her Majesty's Commissioners have authorised the name and address of "THOMAS PROUT, No. 229, Strand, London," to be impressed upon the Government stamp affixed to each box of the genuine medicine.

FRENCH MEDICINES, prepared by GRIMAULT and CO., Pharmaceutical Chemists, 8, Rue Vivienne, PARIS.
LERAS' LIQUID PHOSPHATE OF IRON.
It contains the constitutive elements of the bones and of the blood, and is the most rational of all chalybeates. It may be prescribed for the most delicate young females, whose development has been retarded; for women suffering from stomach complaints, anæmia; for pale and sickly children, deprived of appetite; and, as its principal action is to restore to impoverished blood the iron in which it is deficient, and to the bones the phosphate that forms their base, it is recommended for debilitated persons, whether their debility proceeds from disease or any other cause. Its use is always attended with surprising results.
GRIMAULT and CO.'S SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITE OF LIME.
An excellent remedy for all affections of the chest; it relieves coughs, effectually prevents nocturnal perspiration, and restores the patient's strength. This syrup is the only one which, ever since 1857, has invariably been attended with satisfactory results, a fact due to the purity of the hypophosphite employed. Be sure to observe that it bears the signature "GRIMAULT and CO."
The effect of the Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime is increased by the Pectoral Lozenges of Lactucarium and Cherry Laurel, prepared by Grimault and Co.
The delicious comfit, containing the most soothing substances of all the Materia Medica, is employed with success against coughs, influenza, bronchitis, hooping cough, &c.
GRIMAULT and CO.'S IODIZED SYRUP OF HORSE-RADISH.
Considered the best substitute for Cod Liver Oil. It has been ascertained by experiments made in the principal hospitals of Paris, that this syrup has always produced results superior to those obtained from the above-mentioned oil, which patients find so disagreeable to take.
Not a single instance can be adduced in which pale, lymphatic children, subject to swelling of the glands, to eruption of the skin, of the head, or of the face, or other inconveniences of a weak constitution, who have taken this syrup without deriving signal benefit from its use.
GRIMAULT and CO.'S PEPSINE DIGESTIVE POWDERS, ELIXIR, and WINE.
Pepsine is one of the most recent scientific discoveries in therapeutics. Acting chiefly on the organs of digestion, it possesses the property of digestion by its own innate virtues. It removes all the inconveniences of the difficult digestion, and even prevents nausea.
The researches on Pepsine made at the College of France by Dr. Lecontc, in conjunction with Professor Claude Bernard, must secure the preference for our preparations of Pepsine.
ASTHMA. ASTHMA.
GRIMAULT and CO.'S INDIAN CIGARETTES OF CANNABIS INDICA.
"All the means hitherto employed to relieve Asthma have been only palliatives in varied forms based on belladonna, stramonium, nicotiana, or opium. Recent experiments made in the Paris hospitals have proved that our Cigarettes, made of the extract of Indian Hemp, possess remarkable virtues against this complaint, as well as against nervous coughs, chronic laryngitis, hoarseness, loss of voice, facial neuralgia, and insomnia.
GRIMAULT and CO.'S GUARANA.
A single powder of this vegetable production is sufficient to cure instantly the most violent sick headache. It is the most valuable remedy against diarrhœa, dysentery, and all disorders proceeding from derangement of the stomach or bowels. This powder is indispensable for all families, and far more efficacious than opium and sub-nitrate of bismuth.
INTERNAL OR LOCAL NEW CURATIVE AGENT, GRIMAULT and CO.'S MATICO.
This new remedy is prepared from the leaves of a Peruvian Pepper Shrub called Matico, and cures promptly and infallibly, without any fear of inflammatory results.
The great majority of physicians in Paris—especially Dr. Ricord—Russia, Germany, and New York, no use no other remedy.
Full directions accompany each bottle and packet.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—TIMES, July 13, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.—The Right Hon. Earl RUSSELL communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in cholera was Chlorodyne.—See LANCET, December 31, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, "Is prescribed by scores of orthodox practitioners. Of course, it would not be thus singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"—MEDICAL TIMES, January 12, 1866.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the best and most certain remedy in coughs, colds, asthma, consumption, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c.

WINDSOR.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

BOROUGH COUNCIL.—The usual meeting took place on Wednesday evening. Present—The Mayor and Aldermen. Alderman Walker brought up a report from the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of sundry accounts, which was subsequently received and adopted. Alderman Crew reported from the Works Committee—1, with reference to the improvement of streets, recommending the levelling and gravelling of George-street, from the School of Arts to Little New-street, and that tenders be called for the same. 2. As to the extirpation of weeds. 3. As to the repairs of the Wharf Road. On the motion for adoption, the first part of the report had to be withdrawn as irregular, the carriage way of George-street being under the control of the Road Trust. The remainder of the report was received and adopted. Alderman Primrose moved,—"That the Finance Committee prepare and submit an estimate of revenue and expenditure for the current municipal year in accordance with section 164 of the Act." Carried. Alderman Primrose also moved,—"That application be made to the Governor to allow the Commissioners of the Windsor Road Trust to grant £50 from the funds at their disposal towards the repair of George-street." An amendment was moved on the motion that application first be made to the Road Trust to hand over a portion of their funds to the Corporation for the purpose named. The amendment was carried. Alderman Beard moved,—"That the Mayor be empowered to purchase a ledger and supply of stationery, also rate notice books for the use of the Council." Carried. The tender of John Galloway for the valuation of all rateable property with the assistance of Council Clerk, was accepted at £2 10s. The Council then rose.

MR. HENRY MOSES, M.L.A.—On Thursday last, the return of Mr. Moses to Parliament was celebrated by a bullock roast on Thompson's-square. Mr. Moses arrived by the 11 a.m. down train, accompanied by Mr. Parkes, Mr. Neil, Mr. Terry, and Mr. Cunneen, M.L.A. The band of the volunteer rifles played these gentlemen from the railway station to the scene of festivities. A large number, principally from the country, were present, and at 1 o'clock all were served out in a large tent with bread and beef and beer. Some athletic and other sports were got up on the occasion. The Sydney gentlemen returned by the 4 p.m. train, but it was not till near dark that the main body of the visitors retired.

ROYAL WINDSOR LOYAL ORANGE LODGE, No. 52.—The members of this lodge celebrated their first anniversary by taking tea together at the Commercial Hotel on Thursday evening, the worshipful master the Rev. W. Wood presiding. This lodge, which was opened twelve months ago with five members, now numbers forty. After tea, several addresses were made by the worshipful master, the chaplain of the lodge, Rev. D. Moore, Mr. James Ascough, J.P., and others.

BAND IN THE DOMAIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—In reply to a letter with the above heading, which appeared in your issue of Saturday, the 16th instant, I am authorised to state that the Commandant will make arrangements for the Volunteer Brigade band to perform weekly in the Botanic Gardens, provided the members are remunerated for their loss of time. To effect this, it is proposed to raise a fund by subscription, to be called "The Botanic Gardens Band Fund," which will be lodged in one of the banks. A collector duly appointed will go round, and for every sum, however small, a printed receipt, signed by myself, will be forwarded to each subscriber. If, however, a sufficient amount is not obtained within a month, dating from March 25th, all subscriptions will be returned on receipts being produced.

Yours, &c.,
G. D. CALLEN, Musical Director Permanent and Volunteer Forces.
March 22.

TIN COMPANIES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—I think it my duty to write to you to join with you in warning the public against deception, and being led at random to join bubble mining speculations, and taking up portions of land without knowledge.

In the Glen Creek, near Glen Innes, where there are said to exist large masses of tin, the greater bulk of it is the black oxide of manganese, and as an article of commerce, valueless.

You are at liberty to publish this letter in the Herald.

Yours obediently,
ROBERT R. C. ROBERTSON.
Tenterfield, March 15.

CUTTING IT FINE.—A young lady, at an evening party, found it apropos to use the expression, "Jordan is a hard road to travel;" but, thinking that too vulgar, substituted the following:—"Perambulating progression in pedestrian excursion along the far-famed thoroughfare of fortune, cast up by the banks of the sparkling river of Palestine, is indeed attended with a heterogeneous conglomeration of unforeseen difficulties."

A PRESIDING elder of the United Brethren Church was preaching in Minnesota, and was much annoyed by persons talking and laughing. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said:—"I am always afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church. In the early part of my ministry I made a great mistake. As I was preaching, a young man who sat before me was constantly laughing, talking, and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service, one of the official members came and said to me, 'Brother, you made a great mistake. That young man whom you reproved is an idiot.' Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church, lest I should repeat that mistake and reprove another idiot." During the rest of that service at least there was good order.

The remaining unsold portions of THE BISHOPTHORPE ESTATE,
the Glebe, comprising—
Allotments fronting Mount Vernon-street.

☞ The rapidity with which the whole of the allotments already leased have been built upon clearly shows the great value of property in this locality, and also that the system of 99 years' leases, and the great advantages arising therefrom, are being better understood and acted upon. The tenure is almost equal to a freehold, while it enables the purchaser at a small annual rental to secure the land, and expend his capital upon improvements which will at once yield him A PROFITABLE RETURN FOR HIS MONEY.
Men of limited capital or small means would do well to consider the very great inducements which a lease for so long a period presents to them in particular. With nearly all the advantages of a freehold they are enabled to acquire A REALLY VALUABLE PROPERTY by payment of a trifling yearly rental.
The allotments have all 40 feet frontages, by depths of from 120 to 145 feet, with back entrance to every lot. The streets in this neighbourhood are now made, while the city is rapidly extending in this direction, so that property in this locality cannot fail to increase in value every year.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney, on

The above valuable SHEEP STATION.
MANTUAN DOWNS comprises the six blocks of magnificent country called—
HAWTHORN
CLAUDE
SANDON
SANDON No. 2
and CROSSBASKET.
These blocks adjoin each other, and comprise an area of 164 SQUARE MILES
of choice downs and undulating country, richly clothed with fattening grasses, and abundantly supplied with herbage of the very best descriptions. The water supply is ample for NEARLY DOUBLE THE NUMBER OF SHEEP
in any ordinary season; and, by a small outlay, a permanent supply might be obtained which would render the station independent in times of drought.
The PADDOCK accommodation is large, being enclosed by about 40 miles of five-wire fencing, and 14 miles of brush, giving a secured area of about 30,000 ACRES OF PADDOCKS.
The HOMESTEAD and other buildings are sufficient for working the run with comfort and economy; there is also a capital WOOL SHED, equal to the requirements of the Station.
MANTUAN DOWNS is situated within 60 miles of the township of SPRINGSURE, and is about 250 miles from ROCKHAMPTON.
With this valuable property will be sold the following stock, viz.:—
Ewes .... 26,200 more or less, from 1 year old to aged

48,350 SHEEP, more or less.
. These flocks are all of good character, and yield heavy fleeces.
CATTLE.—180, more or less, a mixed herd, of good quality.

The attention of capitalists is specially directed to the sale of the above property, as it is now but seldom that a station of such importance is brought into the market for positive sale under similar circumstances. The necessity of closing a partnership account (from the effluxion of time) is the sole cause of this property being brought to the hammer; and as many circumstances point to a very decided increase of value quickly taking place in all station investments, the opportunity afforded by the present sale should not be overlooked.
The terms of sale will presently be published. All other information concerning the property can be obtained upon application to Messrs. M'DONALD, SMITH, and CO., Hunter-street; or to the Auctioneers Pitt-street.

By Order of the Executors of the Will of the late V. Solomon, Esq.

The PASTURE is very superior, and the wethers have always realized the highest rates in this market. An inspection of the prices realized for the wool will also convince buyers how well the Monaro country is suited for the growth of heavy fleeces of high quality. The climate of Monaro is acknowledged to be the coolest and the most salubrious in the Australian colonies.

The cattle and sheep are nearly all rolling fat, and quite fit for the market.

FOR POSITIVE SALE.

MAGNIFICENT SQUATTING PROPERTY, QUEENSLAND.
BANCHORY AND ISLAY PLAINS STATIONS.

TERMS.—One-third (1-3rd) cash, residue by bills at 12, 24, and 36 months, with interest at 8 per cent. per annum added.

G. F. WANT has been instructed by the mortgagees to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, 273, George-street, Sydney, on TUESDAY, 16th April next, at 11 o'clock,
Those excellent squatting properties on the Belyando River, in the district of South Kennedy, Queensland, situated within 40 miles of the township of Clermont, known as the Banchory and Islay Plains Stations.
BANCHORY STATION
consists of 4 blocks of country, containing an area of 250 square miles, held under the Queensland "Pastoral Leases Act of 1869," at a moderate rent, for a term of 21 years.
The stock thereon numbers 20,000 sheep, 315 head of cattle, and 52 horses.
Paddocks have been formed enclosing an area of 128 square miles, enabling the property to be worked without shepherding.
This run is intersected with numerous creeks, affording an abundant supply of water, and the country contains very rich flats with saltbush and herbage.
The sheep, which have been well culled for several seasons, are of a very good quality, and the clip of wool gives very satisfactory returns.
From the proximity of these runs to the Peak Downs Goldfields, now extending in the direction of Banchory, and to the Peak Downs Copper Mine, where a large establishment is maintained, the local market will afford a good outlet for fat stock.
ISLAY PLAINS,
also held under the "Pastoral Leases Act, of 1869," at the low rental of £88 per annum, contains 147 square miles of country, and will be sold unstocked.

There are sufficient improvements for carrying on this property as a separate station, but it has been and can again be worked in conjunction with the Banchory run, from which it is distant twenty-five miles.
The above runs have been formed at great expense; but will now be offered by the mortgagees at a great sacrifice, and not being far from a port and market, afford a most excellent opportunity for investment.
They contain very excellent country, richly grassed with plenty of salt bush and herbage, and can be advantageously used for fattening stock.
Stores, &c., at a valuation.

FOR POSITIVE SALE.
Splendid BARCOO RUNS, District of Mitchell, Queensland.

TERMS.—For lots 1 and 2, one-third (1-3rd) cash, residue by bills at 12, 24, and 36 months, with interest at 8 per cent. per annum added. For lot 3, CASH.

G. F. WANT is instructed by the mortgagees to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, 273, George-street, Sydney, on TUESDAY, 16th April, at 11 o'clock,
Those three (3) splendid fattening runs on the Barcoo River, in the district of Mitchell, near the township of Blackall, Queensland, known as
MALVERN HILLS,
PORTLAND DOWNS
FOREST HILL.
LOT 1—
MALVERN HILLS STATION, which is partly fenced, comprises 4 blocks of country, well watered, containing an area of 321 square miles, held on a lease for 21 years, from July, 1869, at a moderate rental, under the terms and provisions of the Queensland "Pastoral Leases Act of 1869."
The stock consists of 38,000 Sheep
of well proportioned ages and sexes; and as the stock has been carefully culled for the past four years, the wool clip has realised most satisfactory prices in the London market.
8000 fat sheep are now ready for sale.
There are also 130 head of mixed cattle, 56 horses, and a very complete plant for the working of the station, including 8 drays and 90 working bullocks, by which the regular conveyance of the wool to port is ensured in all seasons; also a valuable team of 3 mules.
Three (3) paddocks have been formed with substantial fencing, enclosing an area of 39 square miles, upon which nearly the whole of the present stock is depasturing, at a very small cost for labour, and the improvements generally are of a substantial nature.
LOT 2—
PORTLAND DOWNS,
together with 19,000 sheep, more or less, of which 5000 to 6000 are 4 and 5 year old wethers, and ready for market; 20 horses, 4 drays, and 40 working bullocks.
PORTLAND DOWNS
consists of 5 blocks of country, abundantly watered, containing an area of 314 square miles, held on a similar lease from the Queensland Government, at the low rental of £120 per annum.
The buildings and improvements are in good order, and the run can also be fenced at a small expense, should a purchaser desire it.
The splendid herbage which these runs contain, and their fattening capabilities, are well known, and have been repeatedly proved by the fat stock therefrom obtaining the highest price in the southern markets.
Permanent water in abundance is also a very important feature of these properties. During the drought in Queensland, not only was the stock (then numbering from 50,000 to 60,000 sheep) amply maintained, but assistance was also rendered to neighbouring squatters; and, lastly, there is an entire freedom from grass seed, which in so many squatting properties has proved so detrimental both to wool and stock.
Stores, &c., at a valuation.
LOT 3 will consist of the adjoining unstocked run of
FOREST HILL,
containing 3 blocks of country, containing 187 square miles, held on a similar lease as the abovementioned.

This run contains first-class country, and would admirably suit a person of small means.
The auctioneer would specially draw the attention of those squatters whose holdings are imperilled by free-selectors to the opportunity now afforded to secure for a long term of years one of the finest grazing properties in the Australian colonies.
Further information can be obtained on application from the auctioneer, at the Pastoral Exchange,
273, George-street, Sydney.

TO CLOSE A TRUST ACCOUNT.

MURRURUNDI.

THE ROYAL HOTEL,
situated in the Town of Murrurundi, the Terminus of the Great Northern Railway.
TERMS will be hereafter announced.

MESSRS. T. and A. CADELL have received instructions from the Trustees in the Estate of the late P. Brodie to sell by auction, on an early day,
The Royal Hotel, Murrurundi.
This valuable property is well known as one of the most complete establishments on the Great Northern Road. The principal building is of brick, almost new, and contains a large number of rooms. The stables are of stone, and the outbuildings all in excellent repair, and perfect in construction and arrangement. The situation of the property in the town, that must be for many years the terminus of the Great Northern Railway, now nearly completed to Murrurundi, insures to an enterprising purchaser most satisfactory returns; and being the only hotel in Murrurundi, it can command one of the most extensive businesses out of Sydney, and the profits would enable the possessor in a short space of time to amass a handsome competency.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneers, West Maitland, and 155, Pitt-street, Sydney.

EATON'S YARDS, MUSCLEBROOK.

travelling from Wee Waa.

MESSRS. T. and A. CADELL have received instructions from James Fletcher, Esq., to sell, at Mr. Eaton's Yards, Musclebrook, on TUESDAY, 26th of March, 1872, at 12 o'clock prompt,

EXTENSION OF THE SUBURBS OF GOULBURN.

THURSDAY, 28th instant.

To Farmers, Market Gardeners, or those desirous of securing a Choice Site for a Country Residence.

To complete the Sale of the Second Subdivision of the late Wm. Bradley, Esq.'s 262 Acres, on the Wollondilly.

The above subdivision is probably one of the best and most beautiful in and around Goulburn; and nothing can support the accuracy of this better than the fact that many choice lots sold at last sale have already changed hands at a considerable advance upon the first realised price.

FINLAY and CO. have received instructions from the Executors in the estate of the late Wm. Bradley, Esq., to sell by auction, at their Rooms, Belmore-square, on THURSDAY, 28th instant, at 12 o'clock,
LOT 1.—A MAGNIFICENT PIECE OF LAND, containing 70 acres, adapted for agricultural and grazing purposes, bounded by the Wollondilly, and with a frontage to Clyde and Fitzroy streets. This splendid piece of land catches every team passing to and from Marsden's Bridge; and is unrivalled for a public or accommodation house. Fenced on one side.
LOT 2 adjoins the above, and contains 54 ACRES 2 ROODS. On this piece there is a splendid quarry, and the remainder good cultivation land and grazing land, with frontage to Clyde and River streets.
LOT 3 contains 46 ACRES 3 ROODS, with a frontage to Clyde and River streets. A portion of this is very good cultivation land, and is fenced-in on two sides, and adjoins the property of Captain F. R. L. Rossi.
LOT 4 contains 30 ACRES 3 ROODS, with a frontage to River-street, and fenced-in on one side. This is a beautiful piece of undulating land, and adjoins the grounds of Bishopthorpe.
LOT 5 contains 33 ACRES 3 ROODS, adjoins the above, fenced-in on one side, and bounded by the Wollondilly. The land is rich, and adapted for a vegetable garden, cultivation, or vineyard.

F. and Co. simply beg intending purchasers to view the land. One glance of the many homes springing into existence from the sale of the first subdivision will convince every one that not only is the opening-up of these lands appreciated, but that, from the almost united action of the first buyers on improving and laying out their various steadings, at no distant time the land now offered will become of the greatest value.

Terms:—One-third cash; and the balance at one and two years from day of sale, with 8 per cent. interest added.

The horses are worthy the attention of companies; and gardeners should not lose sight of the bone-dust, which cannot be obtained from Sydney under £7 per ton.

MONDAY, 25th March, at 2 o'clock.

For Sale at Menzies' Hotel, Melbourne, extensive Station in New South Wales, PIRILIE,
on the Warrego River,
with 22,000 Sheep.

JOHN GEO. DOUGHARTY has been favoured with instructions from John E. Kelly, Esq., the proprietor, to offer for absolute sale as above,
PIRILIE STATION,
situated about 38 miles from Bourke, on the Darling River, having frontage to the Warrego, Cuttaburra, and Irara Rivers; also abundantly and permanently watered by springs and lakes, and comprised in one block of nearly one million acres of splendid fattening country, unsurpassed by any in New South Wales, capable of carrying, without further improvements and in all seasons, 100,000 sheep, or their equivalent in cattle.

This magnificent station will be sold with only 22,000 sheep, consisting of 8000 full-grown wethers, 6000 of which will be ready for market in a few weeks. 7000 well-bred ewes, all in lamb, commencing from 1st March. The balance young sheep.
All the sheep were shorn in September. The cost of carriage of the wool down was £6 10s. per ton, and the up-carriage from Port Adelaide to the station by water has not exceeded £7 per ton during the last three years. The fat stock from this centrally-situated property commands the Melbourne, Sydney, and Adelaide markets. The total rental of this immense tract of country does not exceed £200 per annum. Labour is so plentiful and cheap that fencing is uncalled for. The freedom from interference by free selectors and travelling stock, and the high value attained by stock fattened on the rich plains of the Warrego, are amongst the attractive and profitable features of this valuable property.
As the proprietor's wish is to deal fairly and liberally with any intending purchasers, if an absolute sale of the property is not made at the first offer, it will be again put up, the highest bidder having the option of taking one month from the day of sale to inspect and approve of his purchase.
For terms and further particulars apply in Melbourne to JOHN GEO. DOUGHARTY (successor to Kaye and Butchart); or in Sydney, to Messrs. GILCHRIST, WATT, and CO.

In the Supreme Court of New South Wales.
